STADIUM, New York, Sept. 28.—The 1932 world series debuted here this afternoon because a wind sprang up near 12 o'clock, chased away the low-hanging clouds and gave the sun a chance to glisten on a field that was rain-drenched except where protecting tarpulins had been placed.

But the change in weather conditions came too late to influence much of a crowd into the stadium. Thousands of reserved seats were unsold and the same was true of the $3.30 pavilions and the $1.10 bleachers.

At 12:30, an hour before combat was to start there were no more than

PA NEW OBSERVES

Yesterday Young Pa New saw a car pass through the city which had two small keys with spikes fastened to them, on each of the rear fenders. Pa New guessed that they contained cider.

One by one, the detours on the state highway system are beginning to disappear on the Detour Bulletin, issued by the Department. The detour east of Union City in Erie county was removed this week.

Have you any stray buttons in your closet or sewing baskets at home? If so, round them together and send them to the Red Cross headquarters, South Mercer street, where they are very badly needed. Clothing is being mended and made for the use of needy school children. There is a scarcity of buttons, for this work.

Two more days to get that Key-tone shaped sticker for the window of your auto, or else. Some owners of nice, shiny cars object to defacing the windshield and have purchased special sticker plates for use elsewhere on the machines. Well, it's all the same, just so they are displayed somewhere.

It isn't very often that you see an automobile skid uphill. But that is

Terrible Destruction In Porto Rico Says Stevenson's Message

Although the damage and loss of life is terrific in Porto Rico, caused by the hurricane which has swept the island, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stevenson, former New Castle residents who have a plantation there, are safe, according to a cable received from them by Fred L. Rentz today. The cablegram follows:

"Worst storm in history of island. Terrible destruction and devastation. Lou and I safe. BERT."

TREMORS FELT IN BALKAN STATES

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Sept. 28.—Advices today indicated at least 150 persons were killed and 1,000 injured in the earthquake which struck the Greek Peninsula of Chalcidice.

The shocks continued for hours almost unabated, destroying villages and knocking houses down on their inhabitants. It is feared the toll of dead will rise much higher when complete reports are obtained.

The tremors were felt in Bulgaria and Southern Serbia, where some damage was done.

Hoover-Hyde To Assist Farmers

President And Secretary To Help Farmers Get Crops On Market

STRAIGHTEN OUT FEED-SEED LOANS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—President Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde today undertook a new move to assist the nation's wheat farmers in getting their crop on the market, and at the same time straightening out feed and seed loans for which they are responsible.

The president directed the Department of Agriculture to accept from such farmers 25 per cent of the amount due on their crop production loans, together with an agreement to secure the remaining 75 per cent on whatever terms congress may authorize. Upon payment of this 25 per cent and execution of the agreement, no further payment will be required until opportunity has been given congress to pass on the question involved.

Large Quantity Of Fruit Is Destroyed

Fruit In Truck Ruined In Accident On Perry Highway

A large quantity of apples, pears and other fruit was ruined or damaged early this morning when a truck bound from Northeast to Pittsburgh overturned on the Perry highway at Harlansburg. It is reported the driver, Charles Edmunds, fell asleep.

The truck plunged off the road and the driver then attempted to steer the truck back on the highway and it upset. Gasoline flew over the fruit and according to State Highway Patrolman Cunningham, most of the fruit was ruined.

Auto Driver On Trial For Fatal Accident Acquitted By Jury

COSTS ARE PLACED ON HIM, HOWEVER

Report Of Jury Is Returned To County Court This Morning

Ellis Boyd, charged with involuntary manslaughter, arising out of the death of Gerald Hettenbaugh from an automobile accident on the night of August 28, on the Harlansburg road was found "Not Guilty but pay the costs" by the jury hearing his case. The jury arrived at the verdict late last night and returned the verdict sealed. At nine o'clock today it was read before Judge James A. Chambers in Lawrence county court.

Hold Killing Of Husband By Wife Justified

WARREN, O., Sept. 28.—Effie Lee Butts, 36, who shot and killed her husband, Homer Butts, 35, at their home in Brookfield Township, east of here, Thursday night, was released from Trumbull County jail as Coroner J. C. Henshaw ruled after a three day inquest that it was justifiable homicide. She testified that her husband had chased her with a rifle.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Data on which to base an immediate direct relief loan to the 64 Pennsylvania counties which thus far have received nothing was submitted to the reconstruction finance corporation today by W. B. Rodgers, head of the state emergency relief board.

The lack of this data, which Governor Pinchot for a long time failed to furnish, made it impossible for the R. F. C. to extend loans, its directors contended. A few days ago Pinchot furnished data on all counties of the state, indicating detailed relief needs there but said that much of it was guess work.

WOULD SPUR EMPLOYMENT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve its application for a works loan of $3,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The purpose of the loan is to increase employment and to stimulate business by repairing and rebuilding locomotives, repairing freight cars and building 820 all steel gondolas.

As security for the loan the road offered its note.

The Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroad asked the commission to approve its application for a loan of $403,419. The purpose is to pay interest on certain notes and equipment trust obligations.

Liquor Joints In Kansas City Area Raided By Agents

Biggest Liquor Raid Since Prohibition Came Into Effect Made In Missouri

Arthur Mometer

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 28.—The biggest series of raids since the enactment of the national prohibition laws were staged here last night and today, a picked squad of 86 Federal agents from eight states swooped down on approximately 75 alleged liquor joints.

Night clubs, roadhouses, cabarets, chicken dinner farms and soft drink places were visited by the raiders.

From California's sunny clime to Maine's stern rockbound shore, Americans will list today, to hear the baseball score. And millions will leave desk and shop to hear the two teams play, its series time, the baseball gem, it's sixty four today. And on the tongues of every fan will be the names of stars, who'll win themselves a lot of dough and very punk cigars, by knocking out a run or two when runs are what they seek, and this my friends will be the case for days, perhaps a week. The series games begin today, sing ho for ball and bat, and many a fan will lose his roll, his overcoat and hat.

Coolidge Will Head Committee

Committee Composed Of Representatives Of Both Parties Plan Rail Study

IS MATTER OF GRAVE CONCERN

Seek To Overcome Staggering Losses Sustained By Leading Roads Of Nation

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Calvin Coolidge will head a committee representative of both major political parties to study the railroad situation, it was announced today by Walter H. Bennett, New York banker.

Other members of the committee are Bernard M. Baruch, director of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; Alfred E. Smith, Clark Howell Sr., Atlanta, Ga., publisher; and Alexander Legge, former chairman of the farm board.

A letter of invitation, signed by numerous savings banks, insurance companies and universities, sent to members of the committee, said:

"The present financial position of the railroads of the United States is a matter of grave concern. Collectively, the greatest and most important industry of our country, the railroads have operated this year at staggering losses. Only wise and timely federal aid has averted the financial breakdown of important systems."

Seen At Farms

Briefly, the mental camera of the guests took these snaps at the four farms:

At Cummings' Fruit Farm—Perhaps the largest Lawrence county farm that specializes in apples...43 acres of the possible 105 are spotted with trees...And a larger yield 8,000 bushels is looked for this fall...Ten workers rushed operating grader, separating No. 1's from 2's and 3's...Grader separates 41,000 bushels daily, or can...After hand-picked, apples go to grader and then via truck to Sharon cold-storage plant...After kept in Cummings' own cooler, huge under-ground room...Estimated that 10,000 trees are in the farm...And apples right now are $1 bushel...Peaches a side-line at the farm.

At Thompson Dairy Farm—Operated by Lauren Thompson, son of an American Bridge company superintendent...Fine record herd of 18 Jersey cows there...Blue-ribbon winners in county cow-testing association...One cow produced blue-ribbon yield of butter-fat last year...All A-1 stock...Saw two gold medal cows, more prize winners, and three-year-old bull.

At Wagner Stock Farm—Have herd of 175 cattle at two farms, one of them visited...Prize winning stallions on parade...And lengthy visit in Wagner barn, where 150 stein cows were seen...Horses have been bred there for years, and is a showplace so far as both horses and cows are concerned...Wagner's son, Edward, and Arthur Stickle aid father in conducting farm.

At McCreary Potato Farm—Saw nearly 1,000 bushels of potatoes in storage, ready for marketing...All russets...Belief at farm that wheat

From McCreary's the bankers drove to the Liberty grange, where a delicious chicken dinner was served them at 5:30 by grange ladies under Mrs. R. J. Drake's direction.

At Grange Hall
J. C. Miner, New Castle banker offered the invocation, and with dinner over, President Joel S. McKee of the county organization took charge. Secretary John J. Maher's minutes and reports were heard, after which Maher presented the evening's honor guest and speaker, Fred L. Rentz, president of The News and a director of the Citizens National Bank.

"Things Every Banker Should Know" was Mr. Rentz's subject, and his message revolved around the past summer's Republican National convention at Chicago and President Hoover's notification ceremony later at Washington. Mr. Rentz was in attendance at both, an official delegate to the Chicago sessions.

The bankers heard their speaker tell them that many are the things every American should know and still many are the things they don't know. Then he conveyed to them the cogs in the machinery that make a president.

County Agent McCulloch, who was heard earlier in the evening, expressed his hopes that next year's tour can be arranged on a larger scale.

President McKee announced November 17 as the tentative date for the organization's next meeting, to which wives and sweethearts of the bankers may be invited.

Bank men who sat around the grange dinner table, in addition to Mr. Rentz, the speaker, County Agent McCulloch; County President McKee; County Secretary Maher, were:

H. T. Getty, H. M. Garrett, R. J. Totten, First National Bank of New Wilmington; J. C. Miner and Thomas Cooper, Lawrence Savings & Trust company; Stewart P. Foltz, Leont G. Laurell, W. S. McGinnis, T. F. Morehead, Robert C. Love, Don Wilson, First National Bank of Lawrence County, New Castle; C. W. Jackson, Peoples National, Ellwood City; P. M. Cox, First National, Volant; C. P. what happened to a flighty little coupe yesterday afternoon on the West Washington street grade. The coupe became mixed up on the trolley tracks. The rear wheels wanted to tread the tracks. The front wheels said no. The driver got a real thrill, we suppose.

Douglas Hill brought to The News this morning a king of turkeys, tipping the scales at 10 pounds. The turkey was raised at 931½ Moravia street, by Mr. Hill's son, Douglas Hill, Jr. It is on display in The News business office.

Just by way of warning. Saturday, October 8, is the last day for citizens in New Castle to be registered to vote, in case they did not register on either of the two preceding registration days this fall.

Widening of East Washington street, now in progress, will make a much wider roadway for traffic, but the sidewalks are going to be rather unusual. The poles that have been moved back from the space between the curb and the walk, have been set inside the sidewalk line, making a very narrow sidewalk everywhere there is a pole.

Yesterday's rain, while still insufficient for the needs of most of the farmers, whose springs and wells were drying up, will prove highly beneficial. More than an inch fell during the past 24 hours, and came down at a rate which would allow the ground to absorb most of it.

A local motorist just returned from Hagerstown, Md., says that among the peculiar signs he saw along the roadside was a farmer's warning, printed with red paint—"Look out for the chickens."

Winning Race With Death

Following an aerial race with death, attendants are shown transferring Private Robert R. Hall, U. S. Hall broke his back in an automobile accident and it was found necessary to take him to the Walter Reed Hospital in the capital. An army surgeon accompanied the stricken man on the flight.

RAIN-DRENCHED FIELD FOR FIRST GAME OF SERIES

1st Add Rain Drenched—7,600 persons in the gigantic stands. No waiting line outside, and estimates as to the probable attendance ranged between 30,000 and 35,000. The Yankees came out on the field an hour and a half before the scheduled start and were hailed with delight by the few thousand hardy souls who had braved the elements.

At this hour they almost filled the right field bleachers but those in center and left bore a strangely deserted air.

Strange Contrast
It was a desultory scene at this moment. In strange contrast to the gay, carnival spirit that usually accompanies this event. Men in smocks and undershirts went slowly about the task of removing the tarpaulin from the infield. Others raked and massaged the turf. Out in the uncovered stands, the early comers sat in silence, glad enough to ease the pain of their aching feet.

Meantime, a band sat in lonely grandeur over on the left field line and occasionally burst into song. It seemed almost a sacrilege in an atmosphere so depressing.

The Yanks came out for batting practice at 12:10 o'clock. It is their tremendous hitting power that has made them ruling favorites at 3 to 5 to overcome cub enthusiasm and general defense, and so they were eager to get the range of the distant bleachers at the earliest possible moment.

Combs, in fact, did so right away. He lined one into the right field stands on his first appearance before the batting cage. Ed. Wells was pitching.

Mr. Ruth also got hold of one and dropped it in front of the bleachers far out in right center. Then he popped one up, after which he lofted his third half-way up in the right field corner.

McCarthy Hits 'Em
Hitting grounders to the infield was Joe McCarthy, the manager, whose unequalled record is that he has led both of these teams to pennants in the rival leagues. But nothing yet had been seen of Charley Grimm, the overnight manager who took the Cubs in mid-season and raced over everybody to the pennant.

He will match tactical minds with McCarthy, dismissed in Chicago after winning the championship and finishing second the following year, and somehow the arrangement has its peculiar charm. They were close friends in Chicago, they are close friends today, proving that if politics makes strange bedfellows, baseball extraordinary brings about extraordinary rivalries.

In addition to McCarthy and Grimm, former master and man, there is the fact that Mark Koenig, ex-Yankee, is holding forth with the sides, there remained only devastation and wreckage.

REPORTS INDICATE PORTO RICO DEATH TOLL IS MOUNTING

Recall Famous 1928 Storm
Residents surveying the scene recalled the famous storm of San Felipe in 1928, when the island was reduced to utter desolation.

And in sorrow they named this new hurricane the San Eusepio. For it was on the feast day of this Saint that the storm first began its fatal journey from the heat-ridden region of the equator.

Efforts were begun immediately under the guidance of an emergency committee to find food, shelter and medical attention for the homeless and injured.

Reports filtering here from the more remote centers indicated the task of relief would be a gigantic one.

In Fajardo and Toca Alta, it was said, few if any houses were left standing. The same fate was reported suffered by many smaller inland towns.

Planters throughout the countryside faced a long period of economic impoverishment when it became evident the entire fruit crop and much of the coffee crop had been ruined by the howling, rushing winds. Early reports placed the fruit crop loss at $7,000,000.

Insular funds were to be placed today in the hands of the emergency committee, but it was generally felt by officials here they would not suffice for the work to be done. Appeals have gone out for outside aid.

Later, it was said, a definite relief program would be worked out and set in motion but that this could not be accomplished until the full extent of the catastrophe was known.

Instructing all government offices to open and function today, Governor Beverly issued an appeal to his people to remain courageous in the face of disaster and carry on.

"We must proceed as if nothing had happened," he said. "Everyone must work."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Sanitary and health conditions in Porto Rico will be critical during the next few days, Lieut. Isaiah Oloh, commandant of the Naval Radio Station at San Juan advised the Navy Department today.

The storm raked island is facing an acute shortage of food and medical supplies, Lieut. said. All available medicines have been turned over to the island government, and all physicians have volunteered their services, he said.

ST. THOMAS, V. I. Sept. 28.—Although reports were not complete, at least 50 persons were believed dead today, the result of the havoc wrought throughout the islands by the hurricane that devastated Porto Rico.

The storm swept over the islands and raged for three hours. Two sloops filled with passengers and bound here from Tortola were thought to have been lost.

SANTO DOMINGO, Sept. 28.—Relief workers were recruited by the Dominican government today to repair the damage wrought by the hurricane which struck here after ravaging the island of Porto Rico.

The full force of the hurricane was felt between 8 p. m. and 11 p. m. last night. Santo Domingo suffered minor damage, especially in the northern part of the city, where the poorer class dwells but the seaport of San Pedro de Macoris was hard hit.

JURY'S VERDICT IS "NOT GUILTY" IN BOYD'S CASE

When they were near the Dean service station Boyd said that he looked back to see if he could see anything of the Boyd machine. He did not remember anything from this time on until after his car was ditched. He said that he had worked during the day at the game farm, was tired after the experiences of the evening and might have dozed off at the wheel, thus causing the accident.

Boyd's mother testified at the opening of court Tuesday afternoon her testimony being that his mind had been wandering when she talked to him in the hospital. This was objected to but admitted to show his state of mind rather than to prove any assertions he might have made.

Young Women Testify.

Three young women who had been at the dance on the night of August 23 which Boyd and Gerald Hettenbaugh had attended, Miss Margaret McCracken, Miss Ferguson and Miss Bogen testified that they had danced with Boyd and that he had carried himself in a manner that did not indicate drunkenness. One of them admitted that his eyes looked as though he might have been drinking.

H. J. Sines, M. J. Warfel and H. D. McClelland were called as character witnesses and testified they had known Boyd for some years and that his reputation for peace and good order and as a law abiding citizen was good. Here the defense rested.

District Attorney Powers then called Charles Colnot, an automobile mechanic who explained what had happened to the steering rod which was in evidence. The commonwealth then rested and the attorneys began their pleas.

A. & P. STORE IS SCENE OF ROBBERY

Investigating officers of the police force today reported that the A. & P. store, 365 East Washington St. had been broken into and robbed. The rear door was forced. The loot included $1.14 in change and some stamps. A screwdriver left by the robbers was found in the place. The fact that the place had been entered was discovered by an officer in making his round.

Deaths of the Day

Elias H. Shaner

Elias H. Shaner, aged 84, well known resident of Scott township, died Tuesday, September 27, 1932, at 3:30 p. m. at his home following an illness of eighteen months due to complications.

Mr. Shaner was born in Plaingrove township, April 9, 1848, the son of Daniel and Eliza Rutter Shaner. He was a lifelong resident of Lawrence county, widely known and highly respected. He was a farmer by occupation.

He was married November 26, 1867, to Margaret Cross, being married 65 years. He was a member of the Slippery Rock United Presbyterian church.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. John McCurdy of Slippery Rock township, and Lucy Shaner at home, also a son, Elmer Shaner in charge. Interment will be made in Harlansburg cemetery.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, September 29, 1932, at 2:30 p. m. at the late residence in Scott township, with Rev. A. L. Warren in charge. Interment will be made in Harlansburg cemetery.

William A. McKee

William A. McKee, superintendent of Oak Park cemetery for a quarter of a century, and one of the city's best known and highly respected residents for more than forty years, died Tuesday, September 27, 1932 at 4 p. m., following a brief illness at the home of his son, Edward A. McKee, of Community Springs, Rochester, Pa., where he had been visiting for a few days. His death comes as a shock to his many friends here.

Although Mr. McKee had been in poor health for years, his death at this time was rather unexpected. He was taken ill Sunday evening, while on a visit at the home of his son and his death followed Tuesday afternoon. Death was due to complications.

Mr. McKee was born April 18, 1864 in Venango county, the son of William Alexander and Sarah Jack McKee and was 68 years of age. He had been a resident of this city for the past forty-four years, during which time he had made many friends, to whom his death comes as a great shock.

He retired April 7, 1932 as superintendent of Oak Park cemetery, in which capacity he would have been engaged at that place for twenty-five years on May 4, 1932.

Mr. McKee was married forty-seven years on September 10 to Viola Coulter, who survives him. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian church of this city. Since his retirement last April, he and Mrs. McKee had been making their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crawford, of the New Castle-Ellwood City road, also three grandchildren and one brother, Don C. McKee of Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Crawford of the New Castle-Ellwood City road on Friday, September 30, 1932 at 2:30 p. m. with his pastor Dr. S. E. Irvine in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Peter Javorovski Funeral

Funeral services for Peter Javorovski, Water street, were held Tuesday morning in the Madonna Roman Catholic church, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Baczewski.

Interment was made in Madonna cemetery.

Mrs. Baldassare Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Angelina Baldassare, 302 Division street, were held this morning from St. Vitus church with Rev. Fr. DeMita as celebrant at the requiem mass.

Palbearers were Louis Vacheco, Carl Matteo, Silvio Roselli, Leo Pagan, Joseph Palombo and John Carichio. Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Mrs. Jackson Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Minerva J. Jackson were held from the family home, 245 West Falls street, on Monday afternoon with Rev. William McPherson, pastor of the Bethlehem M. E. church officiating, assisted by Rev. H. P. Anderson.

Favorite songs of the deceased were sung and members of the family were pallbearers as she was laid to rest in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Baldassare's Funeral.

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Angelina Baldassare, wife of Frank Baldassare of 302 Division street, were held this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Vitus church. Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, the pastor, was in charge of the services. The pallbearers were friends of the family. Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

DECLARES DAVIS NEVER PASSED ON CHARITY BALL PLAN

the supreme council ever discussed the charity affairs as far as he could remember.

"On the contrary, Director General Davis frequently expressed his opposition to all forms of gambling," testified Broening, a member of the supreme council.

Contract Figures

The assignment of the "organization contract" held by Davis with the Moose was taken up next.

This matter forms the basis for the government's charge that Davis profited by $173,000 from the two "lottery" charity balls. It is alleged this contract, under which Davis retained all initiation fees of new Moose members secured is still in effect.

The defense has presented evidence to show Davis sold his contract under an oral agreement, in Sharon, Pa., for $600,000 to Joseph Jenkins and Fred W. Jones, his financial agent.

Broening testified that the Moose Supreme Council, in Sharon, Pa., in 1930, discussed the sale of Davis' contract to Jenkins and Jones but did not ratify it.

"Why wasn't it ratified?" Broening was asked. "It wasn't thought necessary," replied the witness. "It was thought Davis had the right to assign the contract to whomever he chose. There was just a feeling of gloom among the members of the council that Davis was stepping out."

Assignment Approved

Broening testified that the assignment of the contract was finally approved by the supreme council in August, 1932, at the Cleveland convention this was a week after the Federal lottery indictments were returned.

Under cross-examination by Assistant U. S. Attorney Louis M. Treadwell, Broening was asked why the council waited for two years to testify the assignment.

"I don't know why," answered Broening. "I don't believe it was necessary to ratify."

The government prosecutor asked the witness if he had not testified before the grand jury that the supreme council had ratified the assignment at Sharon, Pa., in 1930.

The witness answered that if he so testified he must have misunderstood the question.

TROOP MEMBER IS STILL IN HOSPITAL

Emerson C. Wimer, platoon messenger of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, who sustained severe injuries when thrown from his mount during the annual maneuvers at Mt. Gretna, is still in the New Castle hospital, where he has been undergoing treatment since his return from camp.

Wimer sustained injuries to his back which have been slow in mending. He has been in the hospital for two months now and is still confined to his bed.

The saloon may be gone, but the liquor business still occupies every corner.

QUOTA CLUB MEMBERS HEAR TALK ON ITALY

Associates of the Quota club gathered in The Castleton Tuesday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock for their usual business and social session combined.

At the appointed hour, dinner was served at tables nicely appointed in keeping with the season, places being laid for eighteen.

At conclusion of the feature, a delightful program was presented. Mrs. H. H. Rosenthal rendered beautifully two vocal selections with Mrs. E. O. Fankhauser accompanying at the piano. Following, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, guest speaker, gave a most complete and interesting talk on her recent trip to Italy. The latter with Miss Elsie Calvin and Mrs. Fankhauser were special guests of the club.

Adjournment was called, the next meeting to take place on Tuesday, October 11 at the same place.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HAVE GUEST DAY

As is the usual custom of the New Castle Woman's Club, the opening meeting of the winter season will be a guest day and will be held in the club house at the Field Club Monday afternoon, October 3.

Mrs. E. F. G. Harper the new president, will be in charge of the meeting and ushering for the day will include Mrs. Gayl Blinn, Mrs. W. W. Duff, Mrs. C. H. Johnson Jr., and Mrs. C. S. McDowell.

Mrs. Florence Fisher Parry of Pittsburgh will be the guest speaker and each member is permitted to bring a guest.

Those not having transportation to the club will meet at Highland church at 2 p. m. and cars will be provided.

Sorority Entertained

Twelve members of the Alpha Epsilon chapter of the Alpha Gamma Delta, composed of Westminster college alumnae, were entertained at a bridge party given for them by the Misses Helen McConaghy and Harriet Ewing in the home of the latter, 332 Boyles avenue, last night.

The chapter's business meeting, with the president, Mrs. Orville Brown presiding, came before three tables of bridge were formed and play started. In the playing, Mrs. Brown won first prize and Miss Gertrude Turk scored second high.

At a late hour the guests were served a tasty lunch by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Helen Ewing.

DELPHIAN SOCIETY MEETS AT CASTLETON

An interesting meeting for members of Castle Chapter of the Delphian Society was held Tuesday afternoon, September 27 in the Castleton at 2 o'clock with Mrs. S. M. Matheny acting as leader.

The subject discussed was "Eighteenth Century Drama" and the preliminary survey was given by Mrs. Charles T. Metzler. A full account of the "Character of Sheridan's Work" was given by Mrs. W. F. Moody and following, analysis of Acts I, II, III, IV and V of the play "The School for Scandal" were given respectively by Mrs. James Rhodes, Mrs. T. J. McFate, Mrs. David McConahy, Mrs. A. M. Shumaker and Mrs. S. M. Matheny. A short discussion concluded the program.

On Tuesday afternoon, October 27 the members will meet again at The Castleton, the usual hour being observed.

HIGHLAND SCHOOL RECEPTION EVENT

Tuesday evening the kindergarten room of the Highland school presented an attractive appearance, for the reception, which was held by the members of the Parent-Teacher Association for the teachers of the school.

As the many parents and teachers entered they were greeted by the receiving line, which included Mrs. C. H. Young, president of the school; Prof. R. G. Leslie, principal; Miss Anna Aiken, retired teacher of the school, and Misses Alma Locke, Clara Freshwater, Marie Fox, Helen Allen, Mathilda Coley, Kathryn Jones, Marjory McAnlis, Nancy McCaslin, Pearl Hutchison, Flora Treser, Eva Smith and Edna Duff, teachers of the school.

Mrs. W. P. Felch was in charge of the program, which included vocal numbers throughout the evening, sung by Lawrence Thompson, accompanied by Miss Jean Wimer; Mrs. W. J. Caldwell and Mrs. W. P. Felch, with Helen Ewing at the piano.

The handsome tea table, with its colorful appointments, was presided over by Mrs. C. C. Green and Mrs. R. G. Leslie, while the members of the social committee, Mrs. Robert Eckles, chairman, served the guests.

Guests in Cleveland

Mrs. J. B. Nielsen and daughter Miss Virginia, accompanied by Miss Margaret Ewing of Winter avenue, motored to Cleveland, O., where they were guests of relatives of the former, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Webber.

Together with other parties from Youngstown, O., and Cleveland, the Webbers entertained at a party in their honor on Saturday evening. On Sunday evening, those from the vicinity were honored at dinner in the Webber home. Wayne Mack and other radio artists of Cleveland, shared the occasion which proved most delightful.

Jones-Kuder Marriage

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mildred Jones, daughter of Charles R. Jones of Wampum, to Albert D. Kuder, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kuder of 736 Court street, this city.

The ceremony was performed on Saturday, September 24 in Pittsburgh, with the Rev. Orr, pastor of the United Presbyterian church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. C. Jacobs of Pittsburgh were the only attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuder are residing at 736 Court street for the present.

Full-A-Fun-Club

The Full-A-Fun-Club members met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Eve on Wilder avenue Tuesday evening with Mrs. Sara Nickum acting as hostess.

The hours were spent so enjoyably, 500 and dominoes being featured, and prizes were presented to Mrs. Joseph Eve, Mrs. John Bender and Jennie Kotchish at the close of the contests.

A business session followed, and plans were formulated for a Halloween party to take place on Saturday, October 22, at the home of Mrs. Edward Johnson on Hamilton street with husbands of the members as special guests. Mrs. Henry Manchino was admitted as a new member of the club, and also was the recipient of a token from the hostess.

Special guests were Mrs. Gerry Mills and Miss Kathryn Eve.

O. N. O. Club Members

Mrs. Ralph Taylor of Cherry street, was a pleasing hostess to members of the O. N. O. Club in her home Tuesday evening, when she entertained informally at cards, having as special guests, their husbands, and the Misses Myrtle Conn, Pauline Booher and Marian Unangst.

Five tables of 500 were in play, trophies being won by Mrs. Claire Gorley, Carl Sewall, Mrs. Sam Rohrer and Harold Unangst. A delicious lunch was later served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Miller, daughter Patricia Taylor and Mrs. Mabel Stump.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gorley on North Mill street in two weeks with the husbands again sharing the occasion as guests.

1932 D. O. D. Club

Mrs. James Lewis of Smithfield street was hostess Tuesday evening to members of the 1932 D. O. D. Club. Bingo was the main diversion, Mrs. Howard Rote winning the prize for honors.

A business session followed and plans were completed for a Halloween party to be held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Deegan on Lee avenue in three weeks. The regular meeting of the club will take place in two weeks with Mrs. Jack Logue on Boroline street as hostess.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Lewis, assisted by Mrs. Jack Logue at the close of the evening.

MRS. R. F. ROBERTS SPEAKS TO CLASS

The home of Mrs. C. B. Sproull, Sheridan avenue, was the meeting place of the members of the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland United Presbyterian church Tuesday evening when forty four members assembled for the monthly social session.

Mrs. F. L. Burton presided at the short business session and then introduced the speakers of the evening, Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts, who gave a most interesting talk on the historical town of Schoenbrunn, near New Philadelphia, Ohio, an Indian village where the Moravian missionaries settled. After her talk many of the members decided on a near visit to this village, which has been restored.

The group was divided into two groups, the odd and the even, and the winter contest began with Mrs. Harry Miles as captain of the odd side and Mrs. Josephine Kison, captain of the even. The contest will conclude at the close of the winter with an entertainment of some kind put on by the losers.

When the rivalry of the game was over, a splendid lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Sproull, Mrs. Vance Burkholder, Mrs. W. Bitner and Mrs. Lawrence Fehl.

The class has decided upon the last Tuesday of the month as the meeting time for this winter.

SENIOR HIGH TEACHER WEDS BUTLER MAN

Of interest to many is the marriage of Miss Rose Colucci, to Attorney Carmen Marinero, of Butler, Pa.

At ten o'clock this morning, the nuptials were read at the St. Lawrence church with the Rev. Fr. Lawrence presiding. The usual business routine was carried out, and a dainty repast was served, and the dining room table was nicely appointed in the seasons tones.

On Thursday, October 13, Mrs. John McDonald of Galbreath avenue will entertain at a "Hard Times Party" that will prove a unique event.

Depression Club. Miss Lois Hinkson, Ray street, will be hostess to the members of the Depression club Thursday afternoon.

GUEST DAY AND TEA AT E. D. MARVIN HOME

The home of Mrs. Ezra D. Marvin, Leasure avenue, was most attractive Tuesday afternoon with artistic arrangement of fall flowers throughout the rooms, when she entertained the members and guests of the Ladies of the Lions club for the initial event of the fall and winter season.

As the guests entered they were received by Mrs. Marvin, Mrs. B. M. Rodgers, Mrs. R. F. Conway, Mrs. William McCombs, Mrs. R. L. Boyd and Mrs. A. L. Borland.

A most pleasing musical program was arranged by Mrs. B. M. Rodgers, with the guest artist being Dominic Scaft, violinist, of Youngstown, O., who entertained the women with three numbers: "Salute d'Amour," by Elgar; "Adoration," by Boeowski, and "Schon Rosmarin," by Kreisler. Marian Hughes pleased with a number of readings and during the afternoon Mrs. Jay L. Reed remained at the piano.

At the conclusion of the program the guests were invited to the dining room, which was most pleasing to the eye, with all appointments carried out in yellow and green. Mrs. Fred L. Renz presided at the tea table, which was centered with a floral piece of talisman roses, small dahlias and maiden hair ferns; the yellow of the flowers being further carried out in the tall tapers in silver holders, which gleamed at the corners of the table.

Aides in the dining room were Mrs. A. L. Borland, Mrs. William McCombs, Mrs. R. G. Campbell and Mrs. R. F. Conway.

G. A. T. 1914 Club

Mrs. Thomas McNicholas of Huron avenue received members of the G. A. T. 1914 Club in her home Tuesday evening, with chat and music as the pastimes. Concluding the entertainment, the usual business routine was carried out, and a dainty repast was served, and the dining room table was nicely appointed in the seasons tones.

On Thursday, October 13, Mrs. John McDonald of Galbreath avenue will entertain at a "Hard Times Party" that will prove a unique event.

HALT THIS MOUNTING AUTO DEATH TOLL

DEATH of three or four children in this city in the past few weeks as a result of being struck by autos is a direct challenge to every man, woman and child in this community.

This tragedy must stop!

Every driver of an auto, every law enforcement officer, every school teacher, every parent, must co-operate in a safety drive that will get results.

No driver of an auto would willingly run into any child on the street. No child would willingly run in front of an auto.

The tragedy is in the carelessness or thoughtlessness that occasions these fatal accidents. Every driver must make it a point to use extra caution to prevent accidents, and every teacher and parent must again and again emphasize the dangers that confront children who rush into the street.

Frequently the fatal accident is not caused by the violation of any traffic law, or law of safety, by the driver of the auto, but by the fact that the child darts in front of the car when the driver is powerless to halt the machine in the space of a few feet.

No amount of law enforcement alone will halt all accidents. It will help, but there must be more care exercised by all drivers, and more safety first precautions on the part of all pedestrians.

All of us can help to halt this terrible mounting toll of auto deaths in this community.

And, it must be stopped!

NON-VOTERS

It is human nature to esteem that which is obtainable only with effort. That is why the alien sets a higher value on the privilege of the franchise than does the average native-born American, who need only accept it as a heritage. Perhaps a greater portion of the native population would be more keenly vote-conscious if the ballot were the prize in some such examination as the immigrant must undergo.

Less than half the qualified voters in the United States exercise the right of franchise even in national elections, yet three-fifths of all foreign-born whites in the country have acquired American citizenship. And if the present immigration policy continues for a few more years that three-fifths will be increased to something like nine-tenths or better.

Since the flow of immigration was checked a few years ago the work of naturalization and Americanization has been catching up with the demand. Fewer newcomers mean less raw ore dumped into the melting pot, less interference with the processes of fusion, a more homogeneous nation.

There are only about 5,000,000 unaturalized aliens in the whole United States today, which is phenomenally few when one recalls that at the time immigration was at its peak there were nearly that many in and near New York City alone. Aiding in the work of assimilation is the economic situation, which is chasing many of the unassimilable back to the old country.

SENATOR NORRIS AND HIS POLITICAL CIRCUS

Now that Governor Roosevelt has completed his Western tour, Senator Norris steps into the limelight as the head of what has the appearance of a three-ring political circus. The affair is called the "National Progressive League," which sprung into existence overnight. It is intended as a vehicle for a coast-to-coast campaign in behalf of the Democratic National ticket. The senator from Nebraska is chairman of the organization; and Senator Costonig, radical Democrat from Colorado, is vice chairman. The secretary is Frederic C. Howe of New York, who was commissioner of immigration during the Wilson administration. Amos Pinchot, brother of our own Gifford, is to be one of the speakers; and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state under Wilson, another. There are a number of lesser stars, but all of the same type.

The public will be given the impression that this is a major Republican revolt, but candor compels the statement that it would not be possible to find a real Republican in a carload of these gentlemen. Those who have not been milk-and-water members of the G. O. P. are identified with either foolish or radical legislative proposals that, if enacted into law, would have brought about a state of affairs making the economic depression through which we have been passing look like an era of prosperity. A careful examination of the followers of the Norris circus will probably reveal more than a fair share of pink parlor Socialists. It really should make Norman Thomas turn red with envy. It is to be noted that the practical men in the outfit are Democrats, most of whom have held office under previous Democratic administrations.

Senator Norris, of course, is the bright particular star of the aggregation. One thing certain is that, if a sensation is to be made out of the revolt of Senator Norris, the press agents of the league will have to work overtime. Any man that can recall when Mr. Norris supported a Republican president must have a marvelous memory. He "boiled" four years ago and worked for the election of Al Smith—and Smith was overwhelmingly defeated. To say that he has strayed from the reservation again this year would be trifling with the truth; he is precisely where he was four years ago.

That this political circus will furnish amusement to the multitude is not to be doubted; that is precisely what a circus is meant to do.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mother in the Hospital
Everybody Being Good
Everybody Except Ted

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Mother's in the hospital. She had to go. She hadn't been feeling very well for a long, long time, but she didn't say a word to anybody about it. Even father didn't know. She was afraid she'd worry him and add to his expenses.

But finally, one day, she fainted right here in the house, and Johnny came in and found her lying on the floor, and father insisted that she had to see our doctor.

So she went, at last, and the doctor said she had to have an operation right away. He talked to father, too, and told him not to be worrying about his bill. That would be all right.

So mother went to the hospital, after all.

She cooked some pies and a roast and she made half a dozen loaves of bread and she did all the ordering she could, and finally, a week ago yesterday, the doctor operated.

We were all scared. Even father. We could tell about him by the way he rolled cigarettes and took one puff and then threw them away as if he didn't like them. Mother wasn't scared, though. She smiled at us, and said we were to be good children while she was away.

We all promised. Even Ted did. Our big sister had taken charge. She's very serious about it, too. She makes the beds and sweeps the house and cooks all the meals and is much fussier than mother was.

She's bossy, but father says we must do exactly as she says while mother's in the hospital.

Johnny's all right. He cuts the wood and goes to the hospital every afternoon after school. But Ted isn't being very good. After he got over his scare, he began to cut up. He doesn't come from school on time and he throws things around and refuses to go to bed at 8 o'clock and tells us we aren't his bosses and he doesn't care if we do tell dad. We can't do much with him.

The operation was a success, everybody says. Mother stood it wonderfully, and she'll be home in a week. The doctor says it was just in time and mother was a very brave but a very foolish woman.

We went to see her last night. All of us. Sister fixed herself all up, and she washed my hair and she made Ted clean his teeth and Johnny put on his best suit and we all went with father and tipped down the hall to where mother was. The nurses all smiled at us and mother did, too. She was pale, but she said she was feeling just fine. She asked us if we were all being good children and we all said we were. Even Ted did, but that was a lie. And she said she'd be home in a week, as well as ever, and she was very proud of us all.

Mother's in the hospital and we all feel kind of lost and lonely, but mother'll be home again next week—she promised she would—and then we'll be a family again.

ENTERTAINING FRIENDS

Just for the sake of making an impression on your guest do not entertain more lavishly than you can afford.

Of course you want those who visit you to have a good time. Possibly you are the sort that wants to impress them with your club connections and your friends.

And in order to do this you spend more on them than you can afford. And it is perfectly obvious to your guests that you are going beyond your means.

If you entertain real friends they regret your expenditures for them. If they are not true friends they think you foolish not to know that they see through your methods but encourage you on to do more, just the same.

You don't gain in their estimation and you are not more solid than before when it comes to friendship. Your extravagant courtesy gains you nothing but worry over bills, and perhaps prevents you paying other indebtedness.

There is not so much bluffing as in the past, but there is still too much among those who can least afford to pay.

If your mode of entertainment is the reason folk visit you, get some real friends who like you better for doing only what you can afford.

Synopsis of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

New Measure In Manchuria Arouses Criticism Of Tokio

Recognition Of Independent State Held To Be Action In Defiance Of World Opinion As To Rights Of Chinese Nation

The aggressive attitude of Japan toward China's province of Manchuria, which began a year ago this month, has now culminated in Japanese domination of Manchuria.

Although the latter has been recognized by Tokio as an independent state, and a military alliance made with it, the press here holds that there has been a real and unwarranted seizure of Chinese territory.

"Lest anyone should misunderstand the nature of the treaty between Japan and the puppet state Japan has set up on the ruins of Manchuria, the official interpretation announced that the pact provides for a 'defensive alliance' between the two governments," says the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, which proceeds to comment: "There is something beautifully naive in this new defensive alliance between hard-pressed Japan and the vigorous young state of Manchukuo. It conjures mental pictures of Manchukuo rushing its army and navy to the aid of its ally should Japan find itself in need of help. Japan should now feel free to unload some of its weight in armament. Manchukuo, pledged to a defensive alliance, will not let any naughty nation hurt Japan."

"The act of Japan in setting up a government in Manchuria by force of arms, a government which can be maintained only with Japanese bayonets, which the Chinese in Manchuria, 30,000,000 strong, have had no part in constructing, is in direct violation not only of the League of Nations covenant and the nine-power treaty, but of the Kellogg pact under whose terms signatory nations renounced war as an instrument of national policy," vigorously contends the LEXINGTON LEADER. Under the circumstances this paper sees nothing for Japan to do consistently but "resign from the League of Nations, repudiate the Kellogg pact and the nine-power treaty, and resume her role as a strictly Asiatic power beyond the pale of western civilization."

As the HOUSTON CHRONICLE puts the matter—"Japan defies the nations of the world and asks them what they are going to do about it." "What will the signers of the nine-power pact do?" asks the CHARLESTON (W. VA.) DAILY MAIL, rating this question as one of "deep interest to Americans in view of the fact that the United States is one of the signers," and concluding that "either an adjustment, meeting the ends of justice, will have to take place or the cause of peace as represented in international treaties will suffer a serious blow."

The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL states: "The obvious fact is that Japan has defied the opinion of the rest of the world, taken a firmer grip on the Asiatic mainland, proclaimed her manifest destiny in deeds rather than words—in short, has commenced a new era of imperialism in an era of enormous strategic possibilities. Continuing, this paper pictures the land empire as having 'turned her back on all hampering international engagements, resorted to convenient euphemisms such as aggressive nations have often used before, and is now formidably 'dug in' in Manchuria, as part of her well-thought-out continental design."

As to the attitude of the United States, which was known in advance by Japan and the rest of the world, the SAN JOSE MERCURY HERALD points out that "President Hoover says that the integrity of the Kellogg pact had to be vindicated, and he made Japan's action an occasion to publish to the world the view that no property rights could be acquired by force in violation of it. The League of Nations promptly accepted this view as the legal interpretation of the pact. Later, the Latin-American nations accepted it."

This has been crystallized "world opinion on the proposition that the Kellogg pact has introduced a new rule into international law which makes void any right acquired by war," notes this paper. However, the PORT HURON TIMES HERALD brings out the point that, even though the pact has been violated by Japan, it is not an occasion to publish to the world the view that no property rights could be acquired by force in violation of it. The League of Nations promptly accepted this view as the legal interpretation of the pact. Later, the Latin-American nations accepted it."

ited and distant portion of the once great empire."

Conditions in China itself are blamed by some papers for the aggressive action of Japan. The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS declares: "Little hope for China's unification will appear so long as factional dissensions shall cause continual changes in government personnel at Nan-king. Such shifts enable petty war lords in outlying provinces to maintain virtual independence, and also afford alien interests opportunities to profit at China's expense."

The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS thinks the League of Nations will "see light on the essential question whether the people of Manchuria desire to be independent of China, whether they were permitted by the Japanese military forces to determine the matter for themselves and without coercion, and whether Manchukuo, the pseudo-sovereign nation, would be permitted by Japan to give up its independence and reaffirm its allegiance to China." The comment of the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION is to the effect that "a cynic might say that China has the treaties and Japan the territory. Yet that would not fully depict the situation," claims this paper, predicting of Manchuria, with its overwhelming Chinese population, that "not in 10 years, not in 100 years, will it become Japanese." As to the establishment of the independent state of Manchukuo out of Chinese Manchuria, "the 30,000,000 Chinese in the province had no more to say about the process than did the inhabitants of Monte Carlo or East Newark," contends the NEWARK EVENING NEWS.

That Japan "has been excited, wildly excited, too much out of her mind to be able to think calmly of what she has been doing or what the consequences are likely to be," and that, "therefore, it behooves the other nations to deal with her more carefully than they would otherwise do," is the contention of the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR. In the opinion of the APPLETON POST-CRESCENT, "the Japanese are making the same mistake Germany made before the war."

McMillin Barn Burns To Ground

Barn, Stock And Feed Lost In Fire One Mile East Of Wampum

Two young calves and a large supply of feed, hay and straw were lost when fire destroyed a large, sturdy built barn at the Wesley McMillin farm, on the Chewton-Wurtemburg road, one mile east of Wampum, Sunday. The barn had been built thirty years ago.

The blaze was discovered when well underway, shortly after 11 o'clock in the morning. In less than an hour the barn had burned to the ground.

Everything was so dry that the fire spread rapidly and nothing whatever could be done to stop it. The only explanation as to how the fire started was that, being such a dry day, a spark from the wood fire which had been kindled in the McMillin home might have escaped through a window and ignited a straw stack next to the barn.

FAREWELL DINNER FOR MRS. GARDNER

In farewell to Mrs. Rose Gardner, who is leaving to make her home for the winter in Tampa, Florida, her associate members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Madison Avenue Christian church, gathered for a tureen dinner Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Bevan, West Clayton street.

Dinner was served at one o'clock, followed by a social period. The honored guest was given a handkerchief shower in remembrance of the occasion.

Brothers Hire Margiotti For Murder Trial

Two Brothers Accused Of Murder At Wellsboro, Pa., Go On Trial Today

(International News Service) WELLSBORO, Pa., Sept. 28.—Ernest D Davis, Wellsboro undertaker, and Frank E. Davis, Little Marsh farmer, half-brothers, were to go on trial in Tioga county court, charged with the murder of Henry O. Cooley, 49, an employee of the undertaker.

Cooley, according to testimony at the hearing, carried a $5,000 insurance policy bearing double indemnity clause and his employer was the beneficiary. Cooley was found near death in his truck on the evening of last March 26. The truck had left the road and was found on its side in the creek bed near Keeneyville.

The men died five hours later of a fractured skull that was caused, according to the coroner's testimony, by blows with a blunt instrument. Charles J. Margiotti, noted criminal lawyer of Punxsutawney, who is associated with the defense in the trial of Senator James J. Davis, was listed as chief counsel for the Davis brothers. It was expected selection of a jury would require three or four days.

The students were released after lengthy questioning.

Volunteer Workmen At Tabernacle Tent

Large Addition Is Being Built To The City-Wide Revival Meeting Place

At 9:30 this morning the one hundred or more volunteer workmen at the Tabernacle tent grounds on South Mill street, had the framework of the thirty-eight foot addition to the tent well under way and at noon they were about ready to stretch the canvas over the new part and get in the seats and other fixtures.

At noon the men gathered around the stack on the grounds and a substantial lunch, with plenty of hot coffee, was served, with a number of women of the city assisting in the serving.

The addition will be completed long before the time for the service this evening at 7:30.

Coroner's Jury Holds Fee Death Was Accidental

H. D. Leslie Is Exonerated Following Inquest Held Last Evening

WITNESSES TELL OF AUTO MISHAP

After hearing the testimony of eye witnesses to the accident on September 20, when Joseph Fee was struck by the car of H. D. Leslie of R. F. D. No. 3, jury commissioner, receiving injuries from which he died in the Jameson Memorial hospital on September 22, a verdict was returned by a coroner's jury last evening in Alderman O. H. P. Green's office, in which it was held that the accident was unavoidable. Companions of young Fee, stated that he had started out across the street without looking to the right or left and the statement of Mr. Leslie that he blew his horn just prior to striking the boy was corroborated by his wife and another witness.

Mr. Leslie was represented at the coroner's inquest by Attorney Walter Braham, while attorney John G. Lamoree appeared for the Fee family.

Saw Auto Strike Boy

Elmo Pape, who resides at 245 W. Grant street, was the first witness summoned by Coroner Orville Potter. He stated that he had been sitting on his front porch railing facing Grant street, at a spot just opposite where the accident occurred.

He said he saw Fee coming across the street and looked away for a moment and was attracted by a movement made by James Flynn, a companion who was sitting on the porch with him, just looking up in time to see young Fee being struck by Mr. Leslie's car.

Fee was walking when he saw him he said. After the accident, the car which was traveling west on Grant street, swerved toward the south curb and came to a stop at a point near the curb, the front of the car being nearer the curb than the back.

He said Fee seemed to be under the car, his body pointing in a north and south direction, and his head about a foot from the rear wheel. His leg appeared to be caught on the fender.

He said he ran out after the Leslie car had stopped and assisted in removing Fee's body from under the car and placing it in another machine, which took him to the hospital.

Didn't See Truck

On cross-examination, Pape was asked by Attorney Braham if he had not noticed a truck pulling away from the curb on the opposite side of the street. He stated that he had not, but had seen a car parked by a telephone pole, about opposite the far side of the house in which he lived, which is a double house.

He said that Fee did not look to the right or left before crossing the street, but was firm in his conviction that he was walking out onto the street, not running. He was eating an orange, Pape said. He had watched Fee until he got almost to the center of the street, when he had looked away and was not aware of the approach of the car, which struck Fee until just as the accident occurred.

There was also a car in front of the restaurant adjoining his home, Pape said, but he did not notice any other traffic on the street.

He was asked if he heard a horn blow, and replied that he had not.

Dr. John Foster who attended Fee at the hospital was called and told of the injuries received by Fee, which resulted in his death. He was called to give him attention about 5:05 on the afternoon of September 20 at the Jameson Memorial hospital. His first examination led him to believe that Fee had a depressed fracture and he operated on him at 9:30 that evening to relieve the pressure, as his right side was paralyzed. He died on the morning of September 22 at 5:30 a. m. Dr. Foster said, death resulting from a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain.

Heard Horn Blown

William Goodman, colored, who resides at 310 W. Lincoln avenue, stated that he was sitting on the porch of Frank Cochran just across from the colored church on Grant street, and only a short distance away from where the accident occurred.

He said he had seen the Fee boy come down from the sidewalk to the street and then start to run across. He saw an automobile approaching from the east, and heard the horn blown.

When the Fee boy got in the center of the street, he saw the automobile strike him and then cut across toward the south side of the street. He went up immediately to the car.

Goodman stated that he had not seen a truck pulling away from the north side of the street, but had paid no particular attention and admitted there might have been such a car there, but that he was watching the boy going across the street and the approach of the car driven by Leslie.

The car travelled only about 30 feet or so before coming to a stop after striking the boy, he said.

Companions Testify

James Flynn, aged 15, another companion of Fee's told practically the same story as did Elmo Pape. He was sitting with Pape and Charles Clark on the Pape porch when the accident occurred.

There was a car parked in front of the restaurant next door which obscured his view of the Leslie car until it was just a few feet away from Fee.

Charles Clark of 470 1/2 Neshannock avenue told a similar story as that told by Pape and Flynn.

W. E. Stoops, a member of the State Highway patrol, told of being called by city police about 5:30 on the evening of September 20, to investigate the accident, but had not been able to get to it until the next day. He found no evidence of an accident at the spot where it had occurred.

He said he had examined the Leslie car and found the right front fender slightly bent and a spot on the top of the right fender which had evidently been made by an orange.

The car had been inspected and passed on August 15, he stated.

Driver Testifies

H. D. Leslie, driver of the car, was summoned by Coroner Potter.

Mr. Leslie stated that he was enroute to get some ice and was traveling on Grant street at the time of the accident.

He said that as he came along near the location of the A. and P. store, he noticed a truck standing parked along the north side of the street, facing in his direction. It started to move as he neared it, and he did not know whether it was going straight ahead, so he blew his horn as a warning to the operator of the truck, also slowing down the speed of his car.

About this time, he noticed the feet of the boy coming out onto the street, just off the curb and then the Fee boy emerged to view. He was running quite fast, Mr. Leslie stated.

"I saw I was going to hit him and swerved my car to the left and stopped as hard as I could," he said. "After I had gotten stopped I asked some boys who were on the curb where the boy was and one said not to move the car as he was underneath. The boy and another then got down and pulled him out from under the car. A fellow came along in a machine and said to put him in and he would take him to the hospital."

Mr. Leslie said that as he struck the boy he seemed to fall over the fender and caught his shoulder, as he thought, struck against the headlight. Then he disappeared from view.

Brakes Were Good

The brakes on his car were in excellent working order, Mr. Leslie stated, having been examined on August 15. He said he asked the boys standing along the curb if any of them had seen the accident occur, and none spoke as though he had.

Mrs. Leslie told practically the same story as her husband, she having been an occupant of the car when the accident occurred.

She said that the boy never looked around when Mr. Leslie blew his horn in warning.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case was composed of Seth Teets, T. P. Richards, E. E. Lindsey, Chas. E. Allen, Leonard Campbell and J. C. Kennedy.

Trend Of Addresses To Become More Evangelistic After Friday

Young People's Night will be observed in the Tabernacle tent on South Mill street this evening as Dr. P. W. Philpott addresses the High School students, the members of the church organizations of youth and all young people of the city on "Camouflaged Evil."

The trend of Dr. Philpott's sermons will turn this evening and a more evangelistic strain will be noted in his talks the balance of the week. Friday evening will be the last sermon to the confessed Christians.

Despite the rain and threatening weather of Tuesday evening there were more than two thousand persons in the tabernacle tent when the service opened at 7:30 with the unusual half hour of inspirational singing by the 600 voice choir under the leadership of A. W. McKee. "On the Homeward Way with the King" was the outstanding offering of the chorus.

Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist church, gave the evening prayer and the announcements of the week were made, with the noon day meetings in the Central Presbyterian church stressed. Dr. Philpott will give a brief heart to heart talk and Mr. McKee will lead a song service, the meeting being only fifty minutes in length.

Evening Sermon
"Getting Things from God" was the theme of Dr. Philpott's sermon Tuesday evening and he took his text from Genesis 32:24 "And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day."

"Happy is the man, whose God is the God of Jacob," said the evangelist as he launched into his discourse of the evening. He is a God of infinite grace and patience and victory, strength and power came to Jacob through constant prayer and the Christian of today will do well to emulate his fervency and constancy. A man is not condemned because he is a sinner, he went on to state, but because he will not accept Christ as his Saviour.

With the sermon on "The Call to Consecration" Friday evening of this week Dr. Philpott will give his last message to the Christians of the community and will then take up the real evangelistic part of the series speaking to those who are not saved.

Settle Has Ten Dogs In Captivity

Dog Life In This City Has Decreased Since He Assumed Office

Charles Settle, official dog catcher for the city of New Castle has not fared forth with a trumpet to announce his presence and as a result his activities have decreased dog life in the city.

Since he took the oath of office he has been busy and many dogs have passed out of existence.

Many other unlicensed dogs were taken into captivity, fed and returned to owners upon their decision to take out a license and pay their "board."

At the present time there are 10 dogs in captivity in the yard of Mr. Settle.

Franklin Junior High Girls Have Kid Party At Y

Benjamin Franklin junior high school girls shed their dignity last night and became kids again. Braided hair, beribboned curls, short starched dresses, rompers and sandals were the costumes they wore when gathering in the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A. The Franklin Girl Reserve club members were hostesses of the affair.

Most of the evening was spent in playing kid games and licking lollipops. This was interspersed by a program of readings, dances and songs.

After a costume contest in which all of the 90 girls took part, the prize went to Emily Lou Weir, whose outfit, everyone agreed, was "just too cute."

The new Washington stamps should appeal to collectors of the curious. Sol Bloom's name isn't on them.

Attempt Made To Fire South Side Home Last Evening

Blaze Discovered By Neighbors Before Fire Had Gained Much Headway

Firemen from Central and No. 5 departments were called to 530 Lyndal street, at 8:05 last evening by an alarm from Box 511, where an unoccupied home was found ablaze, damage to the extent of $75 being done.

They found a deliberate attempt had been made to burn the house down, oil having been poured over the floors and wall in the kitchen and dining room, and a burlap sack soaked with oil had been fastened to a joist under the kitchen floor. A large oil can, half filled with oil was sitting on the cellar floor, near the heater.

The home was owned by Philip Kess and was unoccupied. Kess' address is unknown to the firemen and it could not be learned whether any insurance was carried on the place or not.

City police were informed of the occurrence by firemen and are investigating. Investigation is also being made of this and several other suspicious fires which have occurred in the city recently by state police from the Butler barracks, who act as fire marshals in addition to their other police duties.

Police have clues to the identity of a person who was seen about the house during the day and was seen to drive away from the burning structure about ten minutes before the fire was discovered. His name was turned over to Assistant Fire Chief James E. Thomas by neighbors.

Kess had purchased the home from a man named Mike Dziek about three years ago, Assistant Chief Thomas learned.

Many Educators Will Arrive For Meeting Thursday

Hundred And Fifty Reservations Are Already Received Here

Thursday night's meeting of educators in the Castleton will be the largest gathering of its kind since the state convention of the P. S. E. A., here in 1929. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools stated today that he had already received 150 reservations for the dinner and these reservations represent superintendents, principals, supervisors and heads of departments in the schools of Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, Mercer, Armstrong, Clarion and Jefferson Counties.

The meeting is for the purpose of electing officers for the newly organized Mid-Western Pennsylvania section of the P. S. E. A. The convention city for the organization will be selected also. The meeting will be in charge of S. W. Lyons of New Brighton, Pa.

The following educators will attend the meeting Thursday night, representing the New Castle chapter of the P. S. E. A. Dr. C. C. Green, F. L. Orth, F. L. Burton, Browne K. Thacker, James M. Hughes, Roy Leslie, Ireta Dart, Anna R. Perry, Nannie Mitchell, M. J. R. Rhodes, Joe Repligle, Bess Gailey, Helen Westlake, Viola Healey, Ethel Kelley, William Margraf, Frances McClaren, J. H. E. McKenzie, Mary Vandivort, O. J. Sheaffer, Dorothy White, Albert Dodds, Mary Riffer, Gladys Rich, and Dr. Mary J. Baker. Each one of the educators mentioned is either a superintendent, principal, supervisor, or head of a department.

Man And Woman Suicide Victims

Couple In Declining Years End Life In Pittsburgh And McKeesport

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—Bodies of two apparent suicides, a man and a woman both in their declining years, were found at about the same time in Pittsburgh and in McKeesport today.

Edson E. Webster, 64, was found slumped on the floor of his apartment here, a bullet through his temple. He was reported to have been despondent over financial difficulties.

Mrs. Mary Pinck, 88, was found in an abandoned McKeesport cellar, her throat slashed from ear to ear. A week ago, a bread knife disappeared from the home of her son with whom she lived. The knife was found today, a few feet from her body.

She was despondent over ill health, neighbors said.

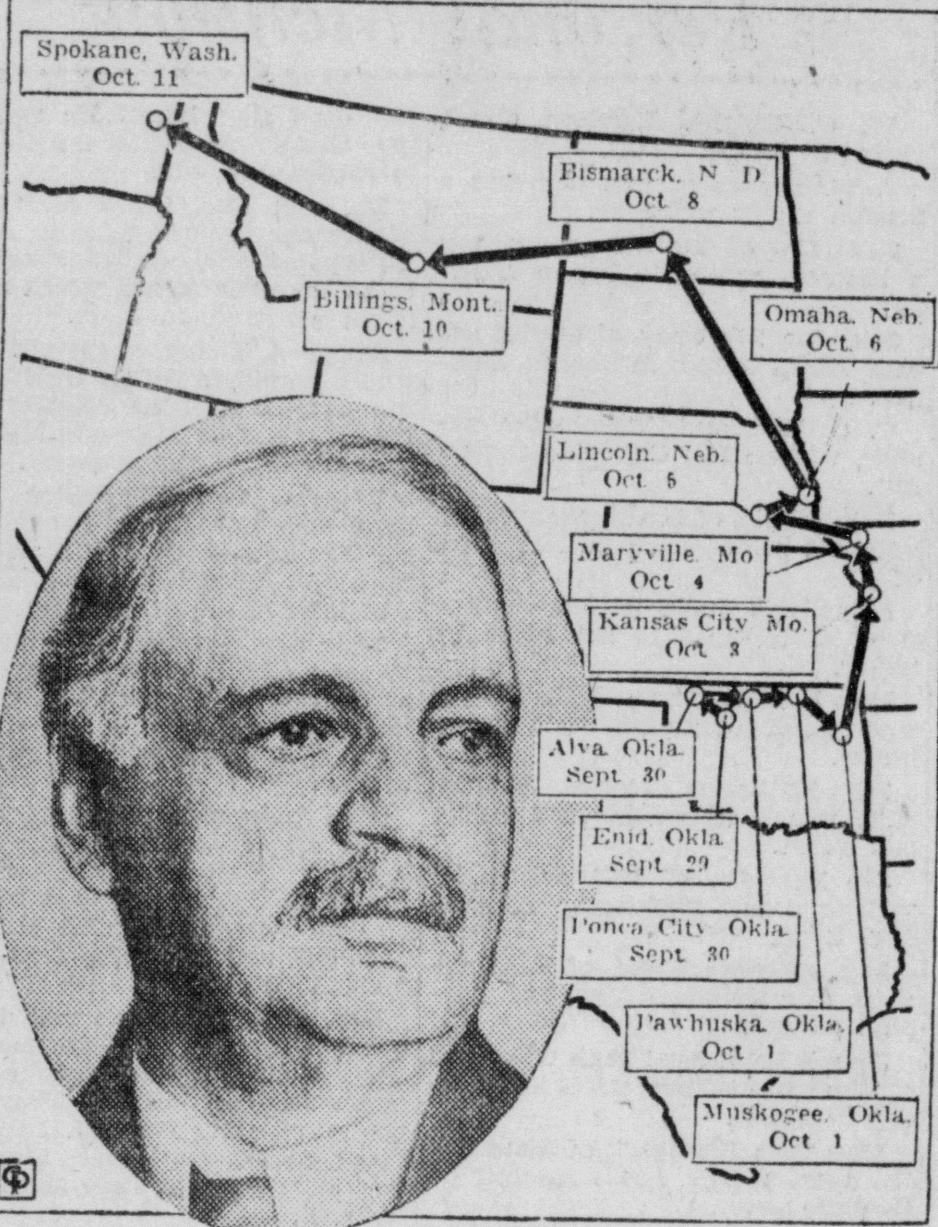

Court Ends With Cases On Trial

Worthless Check And Malicious Mischief Cases Last On Trial List

Only two cases remained to be tried at county court this morning. The first to be taken up before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, is that of the commonwealth against Albert A. Cercione, charged with issuing a worthless check to Joseph Lepore of the seventh ward.

The second case, taken up before Judge James A. Chambers is against Josephine Guagliardo for malicious mischief. The charge is brought by J. Bailey in behalf of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It is claimed that the defendant damaged a sewing machine which she had in her possession on a bailment contract.

CURTIS OPENS WESTERN CAMPAIGN

Embarking at Enid, Okla., on a transcontinental tour of several western states, Vice President Charles Curtis is waging a vigorous campaign to convince the voters that the present administration should be continued. Map shows up-to-date itinerary of the Republican vice president who is seeking re-election as President Hoover's running mate for the second time.

Start Excavating For New Bridge

County Commissioner Elmer Conners reports that he visited the site of the new Wurttemberg bridge yesterday, and found that tool buildings have been completed and work has actually started on excavating for bridge foundations. As the new bridge will not be on the site of the old one, it can be used until the new one is completed, the same as the old one at Willow Grove is being used, during the erection of the new one.

Change Of Voting Place Is Granted

County commissioners this morning granted a petition to change the voting place in the third precinct of Big Beaver township from the school house to the M. E. church. The change is asked for the reason that school has to be closed on election day.

Patriarch On Bandwagon

Though he lacks but six years to complete a full century, John Ficus (right) is still a lot spryer than many young men one fourth his age. When Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt visited San Francisco on his western tour recently, the patriarch arose from his bed at four in the morning and traveled from his home in Rio Vista to the Golden Gate to see the Democratic nominee, with whom he is shown. Ficus voted for President Lincoln and will now vote for Roosevelt, he says.

MacArthur Welcomed in Poland

A brilliant gathering of high officers of the Polish Army is shown as an official welcome was tendered to General Douglas MacArthur, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, upon his arrival in Warsaw, Poland. General MacArthur visited the Polish capital enroute to Wolhynia, where he witnessed army maneuvers.

Ingot Output Is Slowly Rising

Production For Entire Country Goes To 17 1/2 Per Cent, According To Report

SEPTEMBER WILL BE GOOD MONTH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Steel ingot production has risen this week to an average of 17 1/2 per cent for the entire country, largely because of a gain at Chicago from 13 to 17 per cent, but aided also by lesser improvement at Pittsburgh and in the valleys, the weekly Iron Age Review points out today.

The Birmingham district at 33 per cent, has the best operation in the country, but is closely followed by the Wheeling district, which is at 30 per cent for the second week.

With the higher rate this week, September output will closely approximate that of June, when daily production of ingots was 34,511 gross tons, compared with the low record of 30,830 tons in August. Further improvement is rather definitely indicated for October, though it probably will come about gradually and in small measure. September orders for many steel companies have been 8 to 10 per cent heavier in the aggregate than those of August.

Gain In Order
It is significant that most of the gain at Chicago has come principally in orders from the miscellaneous group of buyers, including many small shops. The major steel consuming industries have been contributing less than their normal portion to the better tonnage, a situation that prevails in fact throughout the country.

Major industries are expected to become more of a factor in the steel market within the next 30 to 60 days.

Railroads are opening up repair shops, and, though their purchases thus far are small, they will need material soon.

The automobile industry is proceeding somewhat more slowly with production of new models than had been expected.

Aside from tonnage placed by Chevrolet for its additional production, orders from the motor car industry are of small proportions.

Displays Firm Tone
Pig iron markets are less active than they were a few weeks ago, but shipments are gaining, the increase at Chicago as compared with August being 50 per cent.

Scrap still displays a firm tone, though price changes are fewer.

The Iron Age composite prices are unchanged at 1965c. a lb. for finished steel, $13.64 a gross ton for pig iron and $7.75 a gross ton for heavy melting scrap.

'Y' Hastens Plans, Season Start Near

Secretarial Staff Commences
Gym, Pool, Repairs For Fall Classes

Only a few more days remain before the Y. M. C. A. gym and swimming pool will assume the humming buzz of a giant bee hive, and for those few remaining days the renovation and repair work will bring a heavy tug on the secretaries' muscle.

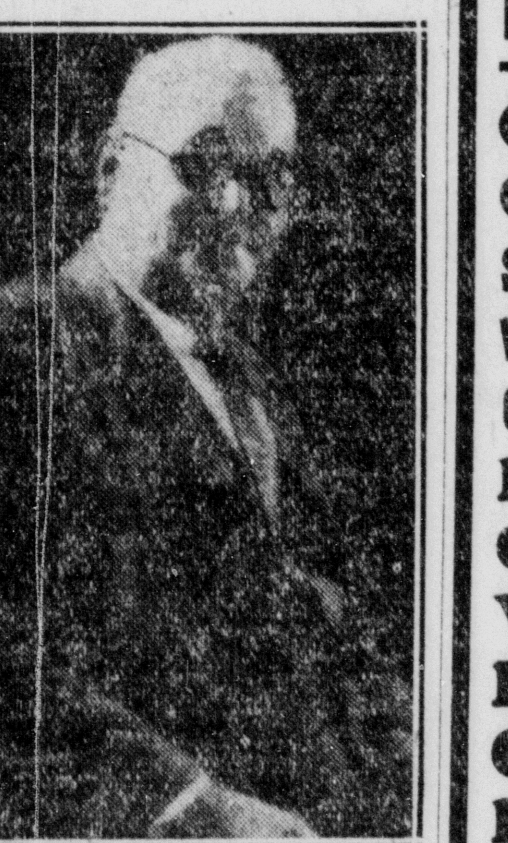

Physical Director Henry T. MacNichols today announced that gym and pool preparations have been launched.

A complete schedule for men and boys and the girls' and women's classes, to be inaugurated on Monday, October 10 will be made known on Thursday.

THUNDER AIDS MOVIES
(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—One of California's rare thunder storms "muscle in" on a movie recently at the Universal studios when the noise of a clap of thunder penetrated the insulated sound stage and recorded as the camera ground away on a midnight storm scene. The script didn't call for thunder, but it was decided to let it remain.

One reason why there are so many stunt flights is that the people who finance them don't have to pay the parties that go out to hunt for them.—The Worcester Evening Gazette.

Cash Candidate

Here is Patrick H. Doherty of Avon, Mass., who admitted that he consented to run for Governor of Massachusetts for a cash consideration. Doherty was to be a candidate on the Prohibition Renal ticket. Regular Democrats charge a political plot to divert a part of the vote that would go to Governor Joseph Ely.

DRASTIC MOVE TO HALT TERRORISM IN HAVANA

Martial Law In Havana After Assassinations

President Machado Sets Up Martial Law, Four Politicians Are Slain

MILITARY RULE CLAMPED DOWN

(International News Service)
HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 28.—This city was under martial law today following an unprecedented burst of terrorism in which four prominent political leaders were killed and two other persons severely wounded.

The military rule was clamped down at the instigation of President Machado, who feared reprisals to the shootings, which were carried out in modern gangster fashion.

Dr. Clemente Vazquez Bello, president of the senate and an aspirant for the presidency of Cuba in the 1935 elections, was slain.

Others to fall before the machine gun bullets of the killers were three brothers of the Oppositionist party. They were:

Representative Gonzalo Freyre de Andrade.

Guillermo Freyre de Andrade, an attorney.

Leopoldo Freyre de Andrade, an engineer.

Representative Miguel Angel Aguiar was wounded. He took part in the rebellion against the Machado government last year. His condition was critical.

Dr. Bello's chauffeur, Julio Suarez, also was wounded, perhaps fatally.

Charities Office Asks Residents To Give Old Stockings

Can Be Made Into Wearable Stockings For Children By Machine

An appeal is made today by the Associated Charities for old woolen and cotton stockings, an offer to make them into smaller stockings for children having been made by a local woman who has a machine especially designed for the purpose. The woman has offered her services to the Associated Charities, free of charge.

Silk stockings are not wanted as they cannot be handled, but old cotton or woolen stockings are needed.

Rosh Hashanah Begins On Friday

Marks Advent Of Jewish New Year — Will Be Celebrated

Rosh Hashanah, holiday marking the advent of the Jewish New Year—5693—will begin at sunset Friday, with religious services to be held Saturday in all the synagogues of the world.

The Central Conference of American Rabbis and the Union of American Hebrew Congregations called attention to the coming holiday in an announcement today.

Rosh Hashanah is a festival marked by the blowing of the Shofar, or ram's horn. In addition to its joyous and optimistic character, it is one of great solemnity and sacredness.

On Rosh Hashanah, just as on the Christian New Year's day, the worshippers call to mind the misdeeds of the past year with a view to consecrating themselves to a nobler life during the years to come.

The New Year is the beginning of the most sacred of the Jewish holiday seasons. It is the first of the 10 days on penitence, culminating in the Day of Atonement.

A few days after the Day of Atonement, the Feast of Sukkoth (tabernacle) is celebrated during a period of eight days in commemoration of the ancient Palestinian harvest festival and of the wanderings of the Israelites through the wilderness.

Roosevelt Goes To Nebraska For Campaign Speech

Governor Roosevelt Will Stop Off In Nebraska To See Senator Norris

AGAIN APPEALS FOR "NEW DEAL"

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Sept. 28.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried his appeal for the progressive support of the country into friendly territory today.

From California where he pointedly courted the support of Senator Hiram Johnson's friends, through New Mexico and the Southwest, where he went out of his way to welcome the Progressive support of Senator Bronson S. Cutting, the Democratic nominee, today invaded Nebraska, the home of the most insurgent of all Republican insurgents, Senator George W. Norris.

Norris Bolts

Senator Norris has frankly bolted the Republican national ticket and is openly supporting Gov. Roosevelt, just as four years ago he supported Al Smith.

Late today, at McCook, Neb., Gov. Roosevelt will stop off to pay his respects to the veteran Nebraska insurgent. A meeting has been arranged there at which Gov. Roosevelt will publicly voice his appreciation of Senator Norris' support.

Twenty years ago, Theodore Roosevelt appealed to the western country on his famous pledge of the "square deal." Franklin Roosevelt has campaigned the same territory during the past fortnight on the self-described issue of "The New Deal."

In New Mexico, he declared "There is no room in this country for two parties, both conservative." The voters, he said, must take their choice between "a liberal party," which he represented, or "a conservative party," which he described as bringing the country to its present state.

Speaks In Colorado

Here in Colorado Springs, late last night, he addressed an audience of thousands, and his speech, made extemporaneously, was again directed to the independent vote.

"Our fight," he said, "is not against the rank and file of the Republican party. Our fight is directed against the leadership of the Republican party, which has failed utterly to measure up to the needs of the present hour."

He disavowed partisanship, declaring that the national needs are too serious and too grave to permit of it.

"There has not been much of a partisan about me in this campaign," he declared, "and I promise you there won't be."

"What the country needs is serious thinking, more serious discussion about the issues of this campaign and I think it is getting it."

"The American people are doing more good solid American thinking today than at ever before."

"And that is why the decision on Nov. 8 which ever way it goes, will be an intelligent decision."

Good Progress Is Made On Fill

Will Make A Very Decided Improvement In New Wilmington Highway

Excellent progress is being made by the group of employees working under the supervision of H. W. Lightner, superintendent of the department of highways in this district on the New Castle-New Wilmington road, better known as the old Mercer road which is being improved from the city line to New Wilmington at the present time.

One of the outstanding pieces of work that is required in making this improvement is the fill in the valley from the end of Highland avenue north.

This is the work that is progressing so well at the present time. The fill is twenty-two feet in height and a steam shovel is part of the equipment in use in doing the work, as it requires considerable earth to make such a fill. Six foot concrete sewer pipe is being laid in the lower or near center part of the fill to take care of the water.

ATTEND FUNERAL HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sweeney and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sweeney and daughter Julia, Eugene Sweeney, John J. Gallagher, and Peter MacCaro of Wheatland attended the funeral services of Thomas Jones here on Monday.

The funny part of it is that he is called a celebrity when nobody but imbeciles thinks him a wonder.

Moose Contracts Figure In Case

Jenkins To Testify In Defense Of Senator Davis In Trial

TRANSACTION IN SHARON IS FACTOR

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Joseph Jenkins, organizer, will be called as a defense witness today at the "lottery" trial of U. S. Senator James J. Davis, in an attempt to show that the former secretary of labor had sold his "organizing contract" with the Loyal Order of Moose.

Jenkins will support the testimony of Fred W. Jones, financial agent of Davis, who has already told from the witness stand of how he and Jenkins in 1929, at Sharon, Pa., bought the contract for $600,000, to be paid for in annual installments of $36,000.

It is through checks which passed from the two alleged lottery charity balls promoted for the Moose through the "organization department" that the government bases its charge against Davis.

The prosecution contends that this organization department is still controlled by Davis and financial transactions totaling $173,000 represent the profit he made from the two "lucky number" charity balls.

Jones testified purchase of the Davis contract was made through an oral agreement and neither he nor Jenkins were aware of the assets or liabilities.

One liability turned out to be a note for $127,000, once held by Mrs. Jean Davis, wife of the director general of the Moose.

One asset developed in the payment of $125,000 owed the organization department by the supreme lodge, Jones testified.

In the attempt of the defense to refute the trial of the checks from the "propagation department" of the Moose which promoted the charity balls, witnesses will be called to explain the $10,000 loan obtained by Theodore Miller, head of the propagation department, from the Liberty Bond and Mortgage Company, controlled by Davis.

This loan was unsecured, the government brought out.

Jones claims as an officer of the company he extended the loan to

Miller on his own authority and that Davis knew nothing about it.

William F. Broening, former mayor of Baltimore, and ex-supreme dictator of the Moose, will be cross-examined concerning his testimony that the report he read at the 1931 convention of the Moose at Atlantic City was partially extemporaneous and not in the minutes.

In this report presented by the supreme council, Broening referred to the success of the charity ball. He said that Davis was not present when he read the report.

The government, in its contention that Davis must have been aware of the details of the affairs, presented this report.

Three British Cabinet Members Quit Their Posts

Three Officials Quit In Protest Of Recent Ottawa Conference

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 28.—Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary, Viscount Snowden, Lord Privy Seal, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary of state for Scotland, resigned from the British cabinet in protest against the Ottawa conference tariff provisions, which it was officially announced today.

The announcement followed the adjournment of a cabinet meeting at 10 Downing street, official residence of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald. The meeting ended at 1 p. m.

VETS CORPS WILL MEET ON FRIDAY

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet in the Armory on Neshannock avenue, Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock.

Preparations for Armistice Day will be started at this time and in addition, a business meeting will be held, which requires a full attendance of the membership.

CONDITION OF FALL VICTIM UNCHANGED

No change was noted in the condition of Mrs. Harriett McCormick, of 507 Whippo street, injured in a fall from the third story window of her home on Monday, it was stated at the New Castle hospital this morning.

Mrs. McCormick sustained a broken arm and leg and internal injuries, her condition being serious.

West Pittsburg Agog Over Petrified Turtle

Some say "yes" and some say "no" and others merely wag their heads knowingly and smile, when the subject is brought up, but nevertheless, West Pittsburg claims to own a petrified turtle.

Quite a stir was created in the quiet little village along the Mahoning a week or so ago, when Angelo De Genova claimed to have discovered a peculiarly shaped stone weighing around a hundred pounds, which bore a striking resemblance to a large turtle.

Some of the crowd which gathered around the spot where Angelo claims to have found the stone persuaded him to take it home, and exhibit it as a petrified turtle, which Angelo did, making no claims that it was a petrified turtle but leaving the viewers to decide for himself. Deep arguments have ensued since that time, some claiming that it was a real, honest-to-goodness petrified turtle, while others have scoffed at the idea, for no person around these parts had ever heard of a petrified turtle before, turtles seemingly refusing to petrify after they die.

The stone however, bears all the earmarks of a turtle. It has a shell, head, mouth and eyes all of which are clearly defined.

The West Pittsburg informant who related the story today would not commit himself one way or the other, but did say that Angelo has a keen sense of the artistic and trades is extremely skillful with mallet and chisel. Mind you, he was not insinuating that Angelo is a nature fakir, but he did bring out the fact that Angelo makes his living with his mallet and chisels, and perhaps, but that was as far as he would go.

Anyhow the stone is on exhibition in the rear of Angelo's home on 11th street, West Pittsburg, where anyone may view the object at no cost, and after viewing the object, he can form his own opinion.

SAFETY FIRST IDEA OF RAILROAD POLICE

"Safety First" is ever uppermost in the minds of railroad authorities and apparently also in the minds of railroad police as Monday night several of the P. R. R. police department members were on duty at the Grant street crossing.

They were there to guard persons and automobiles against accident as the boxing show made traffic heavy in Grant street.

The police were on guard while automobiles operated to and from the bowl.

DOUDS INQUEST TO BE HELD MONDAY

Inquiry into the death of David Douds, Jr., who died of injuries received when run over by a Penn-Ohio Coach Line bus on Monday evening, will be held next Monday evening. Coroner Orville Potter announced today. H. E. Gardner, the driver, appeared before Alderman L. C. Mantz yesterday morning and posted bond for his appearance at the coroner's inquest.

New Castle And Charleroi Ready For Hard Battle

Undeclared Class AA Teams Will Meet At Taggart Field Friday Night

Coach Bridenbaugh Drives Squad Through Workout In Steady Rain

It was raining yesterday afternoon, that's news, because it hasn't rained for quite a spell, but to the New Castle High football team the rain didn't even exist. Their entire thought went ahead to that important Class AA opening game with Charleroi Friday night, the boys seemed not to mind the dampness.

With the field soaked, the New Castle team slithered and slid hither and yon, and they enjoyed it. One of the toughest scrimmages of the year was held yesterday afternoon and when Coach Bridenbaugh said "that's all" boys, there wasn't any of them wanted to quit. No sir, not this team, they wanted to stay right out there in all the rain and wait till Friday night to rain and wait till Friday night to rain and wait till Friday night to rain. That's the spirit of this gang of footballers assembled at Senior High.

Hurricane Polished Up
The "Red Hurricane" is being polished up, and will be ready Friday to blow its hardest and try and take Charleroi along in the backwash. It's going to be a tough football battle. That much is assured.

Coach Steve Stephanian is grooming his sweet-looking halfback Mahovich to do big things in New Castle, and especially at Taggart Field, and well Mahovich looks big enough to do just what his coach wants him to.

New Castle is going to be matched with weight and speed by the "Magic City" team. It will be interesting to see how well the New Castle backs can filter through a team that matches them in size. Celaschi at right guard is a clever looking line-man for Charleroi and figures to play DeCarbo off his feet, and if he does it will be the first time that this has ever happened. Figure the tall rangy Charleroi end is an adept forward pass snatcher, and figures to get his share in the New Castle game. He must also figure along with Thomas and Tomalio, who take no back seats on any man's football team.

Depends On Nickum
"Whitey" Nickum the big blonde "thunderbolt" from the Seventh Ward is all warmed up about this game Friday night. Nickum has been the big star to date, no denying that, but someone said that Nickum will be outclassed Friday in the Charleroi game, and well if you ever tossed a red blanket in the face of a bull, you have the same effect and that is just what Nickum looked like, and what he said—

"Just let me get away in a good field," and they will have a tough time stopping me," said the "thunderbolt."

Johnny Uram is another lad who is rarin' to get at this Charleroi team, and so is Tommy Rambo, the clever blocking halfback who leads the interference and who has been partly responsible for New Castle's success so far this year. Then take Kolodjeski, Kominic, Lane, James, all of them eager for that important tussle. Charleroi is in for an evening of football. Wait till "Bridy" turns that pair of Shellenos brothers, Radkowski, DeCarbo, Duff on that invading team, and then draw your own conclusions.

Victory Is Wanted
New Castle High wants that victory Friday, and they are going to get it, and those who are at Taggart Field to halt them will just get run over with that big machine.

All that matters now is the weatherman's side of the story. If he will just dish up a nice lot of weather for Friday night, everything will be jake. It looks like the biggest crowd of the season this week.

Starting Time 8 O'Clock
Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced today that the starting time of the game Friday night would be 8 o'clock. This is a change of a half hour over the starting time of the two previous games, but owing to the dropping of Daylight time it was deemed advisable to start at an earlier hour.

PIGEONS RACE MILES, WALLACE ENTRY WINS
New Castle pigeon fanciers today announced results of an 150-mile race the New Castle Homing Pigeon club staged from Marion, O., on Saturday. The winning entry has placed first in two previous flights sponsored.

The entry backers and their time follow:
Robert Wallace's "Fleeting Blue Check"—995.08 yards per minute.
Tom Turner—979.34 yards.
Bill Campbell—975.31 yards.
Bill Turner—962.20 yards.
The Cooper loft failed to report.

RYANTOWN WILL PLAY CASTLETONS
Ryantown baseball team will play the Castletons this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Ryantown Field. Saturday Ryantown and the West Side Tigers will play the fifth game of their series at the Ryantown field.

MIDGETS WILL DINE
Forest A. C. Midgets will hold their annual mushball dinner at the Forest Club House on October 8. The following are asked to attend: Joe Cooper, John Cooper, George Jay, D. DePorzio, W. Morgan, F. Morgan, W. Henle, G. Ross, D. Green, J. Monsey, F. DeMarso and V. Jacobson.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Judging from the applause that was given Walter Johnson during the local meet at the New Castle Fair track he is very popular with the fans. He drove in four races. He drove Napoleon Brother, blk., by Napoleon Direct third, second and fifth in the 2:15 pace, purse $200, Francis Willis, bg., by San Francisco, fifth, eleventh, and fifth again in the 2:15 trot, purse $200, Mildred M. Guy, bm., by Guy Mac, ninth in the first heat and fifth in the second and third heats of the 2:24 trot and landed two firsts and a second with Grant Napoleon in the three year old pace, purse $100, added money event.

Another popular driver was McMillen. In the 2:25 trot, purse $150.00, he drove Peter Plutarch, bg., by Peter Pluto to win the first and last heats. He got second in the second heat. And in the 2:20 trot, purse $200.00 he drove Susan E. against Princess Olin and David Thornton when they all won first place. In the fourth heat Susan E. secured second place, Princess Olin winning with Olin driving and Fashnacht driving David Thornton third. McMillen was second with American Boy in the 2:15 trot.

Cal Moon looked as though he would be in the winning sulky when Lady Peterkin, a fm., by Peterkin took the first heat of the 2:15 trot. He charged in the judges' stand that Chaffee had cut in with Jack Cope. Lady Peterkin was injured and Moon had to withdraw her. Chaffee was called to the judges stand. He said he thought he had enough room to get through, said he didn't like any crackups and told Moon that if he had done as charged (although he said he believed he had plenty of room to get through) he would like to apologize. The driver was not set down and in the 2:15 trot Chaffee came through in the last two heats to win. He came through a hole next the rail on the third heat. In the fifth confidence, blk. landed eleventh and last.

The success of the events at the local track was due to a considerable degree to Harry Goll, the starter. He told the drivers plainly that he did not propose to let them jockey around and expected them to come down right and to get away from the wire. In only one or two events did Goll have any trouble. He appreciated the cooperation of the drivers and thanked them for their cooperation. The meet was a success.

Madison Square garden officials want to send Max Schmeling against Willie Stribling and the winner of a proposed Maxie Baer-Primo Camera battle. Enthusiasm reigns in the hearts of the Madison Square garden officials since Schmeling defeated Mike Walker. He did not propose to let them jockey around and expected them to come down right and to get away from the wire. In only one or two events did Goll have any trouble. He appreciated the cooperation of the drivers and thanked them for their cooperation. The meet was a success.

The Naval academy football team has abandoned the use of the huddle and established the calling of signals for this year's play. The Middies will play Williams and Mary Saturday. They will be without the services of Miller, end, who was injured.

Hard and timely hitting gave Chattanooga, Southern association champions a 7-3 victory over Beaumont of the Texas league and the Dixie series baseball title at Chattanooga yesterday.

With Charley Grimm declaring "We'll win!" and Joe McCarthy reiterating the statement, the Chicago Cubs and the New York Yankees are ready for the first game of the series at New York city today.

Rogers Hornsby, who managed the Cubs for two-thirds of the season until he was replaced by Charley Grimm will not attend the world series between his former charges and the Yankees. "I don't plan to see any world series games. I have no tickets and I have other things to do," he said Tuesday in Chicago. He once more registered a protest against the Cubs failure to give him a share of their world series money.

He said that he felt that as one who handled the club through its major difficulties and had the greatest part in developing its present strength, he is entitled to share in the distribution of any money the Cubs may win through the series. He recently protested his case of K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball.

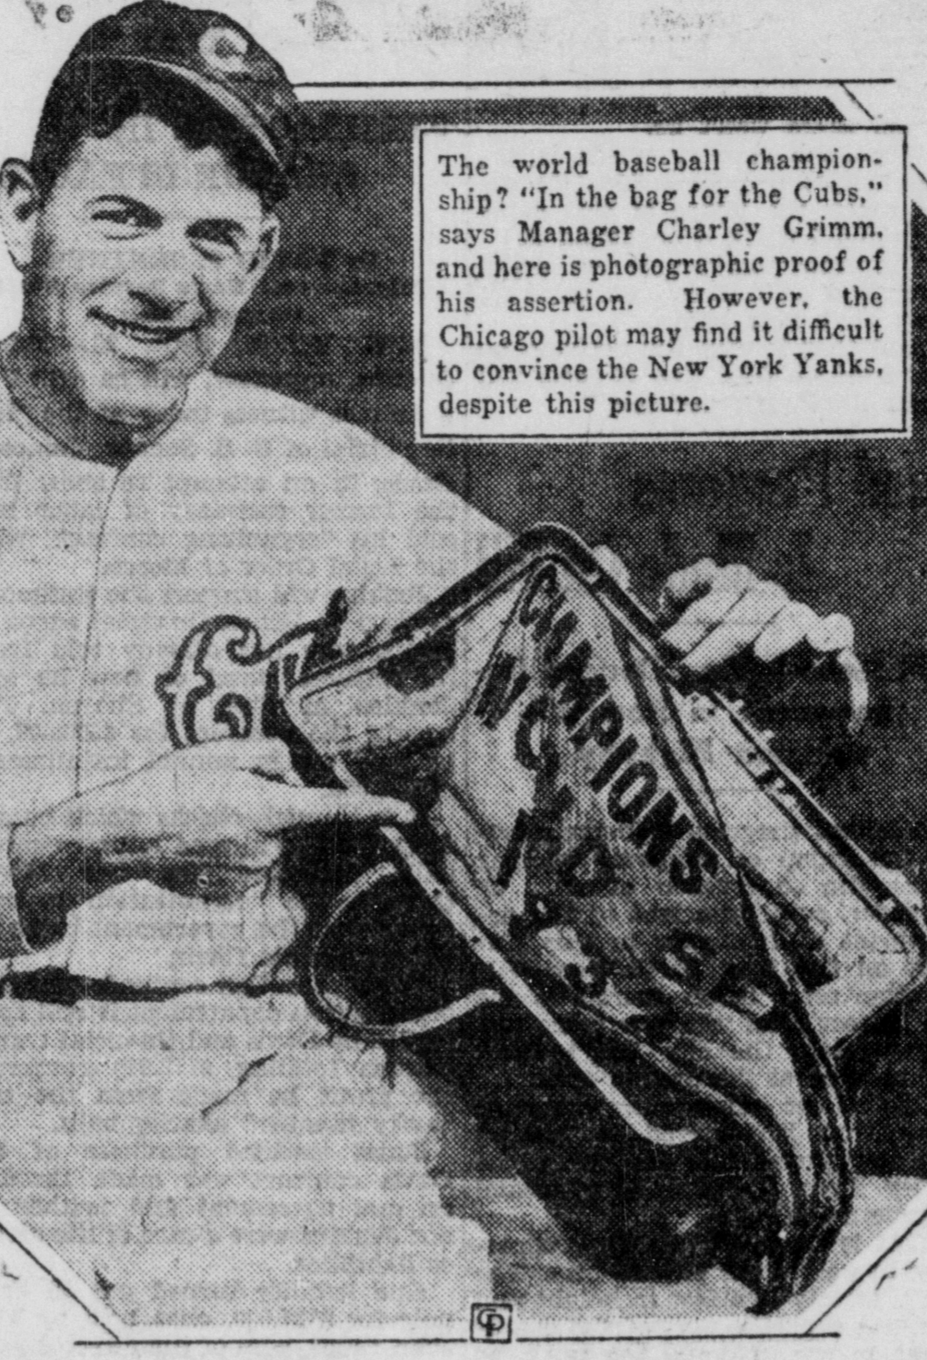

Roger Peckinpah will manage the Cleveland Indians for his sixth consecutive year with Bib Falk, pilot of the Toledo Mud Hens as his assistant.

Don Brennan's pitching, supported by heavy hitting and good base running game Newark, International league champions a 11 to 0 victory over Minneapolis in the little World series at Newark.

First annual horse show will be held at Sharon Saturday. It will be held at the Sharon Riding Club, Lindy Chief, Pongee Cream and No Doubt are among the entries.

Even if you can't go motoring on Sunday, you needn't miss anything. You can sit on the street and gaze at somebody's spare tire.

"In the Bag", Says Charley

The world baseball championship? "In the bag for the Cubs," says Manager Charley Grimm, and here is photographic proof of his assertion. However, the Chicago pilot may find it difficult to convince the New York Yanks, despite this picture.

Cubs And Yankees Open Big Series

Guy Bush And Charley Ruffing Likely Starting Pitchers For First Game

Yankees Installed As 2 To 1 Favorites, First Two Games In New York

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—With a flourish and gusto not altogether justified by the facts, baseball's old-tale of two cities, a story old in years yet always new to the eye of the beholder, is to unfold itself again in all its wealth of vivid detail this afternoon, while staid men go slightly mad and drama has its fling.

The occasion, briefly, is the opening game of the 1932 world series. The principals are the New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs, respective champions of the American and National leagues. The scene is to be the Yankee Stadium, the time 1:30, the weather slightly dubious.

Not quite the way Dickens originally wrote it, perhaps, but still the big show, the great pageant, the five-star Hennessey of all baseball and altogether quite a spectacle in its own right. Dickens himself could give it no more than that. As a matter of fact, if a choice became necessary, the boys would probably take Landis.

Spectacle Lacking
Still, the thing apparently is not what it was in other and better less haggard days. It has lost some of that pompous, opulent air and, while men waited through the night outside the walls, gazing glumly into the rain, the number was not as great as expected. Neither was the advance sale, which up to this morning indicated a crowd of not more than 60,000, with hundreds of empty seats gaping at one and all like a well-bred yawn.

The money simply isn't there, either to bet with at odds of 3 to 5, favoring the Yankees, or to lay upon the line on the three-game basis demanded by precedent and, in fact, the management. The weather, cloudy, bleak and officially committed to rain, was another deterrent.

Watch Babe Ruth
Yet this, of many recent series, seems to have all the elements of spontaneity and crowd-appeal. There is, for one thing, the presence of Joe McCarthy, the Chicago outcast, its manager of the Yankees. There is, for another, the appearance of the great Ruth in his tenth world series and doubtless his last. There is, for a third, the intriguing duel of wits between McCarthy and Charley Grimm, once master and man, now tactician versus tactician from rival sides of the field. Lastly, there is the romance that radiates from a Chicago team that failed flatly under Hornsby and, then when a managerial change was made in mid-season, came on with a rush to win gloriously for Grimm. It is a Chicago team that features fine pitching, sound defense and the inspiration that made it play 700 baseball through the last two months of its race. Yet the bettors apparently want no part of it.

Its pitching for this all-important first game is expected to be done by Guy Bush, who beat the Athletics for the only game McCarthy's Cubs won during the 1929 series. Now, however, it's McCarthy's Yankees, led by the only man to win a pennant in both leagues, and their power is so vast that many look for them to ride over the Cubs by the sheer weight of their attack. To back up and sustain this power, McCarthy is expected to name Charles "Red" ruffing, the man who came out of a coal mine in Illinois, to pitch this afternoon.

Managers Are Friends
The series ought to be one of those "family entrance" affairs, where everybody becomes confidential and radiates fellowship and cheer. McCarthy and Grimm were more than associates in Chicago. They were friends and still are and will so remain to the end.

However, this is only the beginning of a seven-game series, two here, three in Chicago and, if necessary, two more here. Anything can happen. Undoubtedly, a lot of things will. In fact, a lot of things did the last time the two great cities of the nation were coupled in a world series. It happened back in 1917 but they're still talking about Red Faber's clean steal with the bases filled and Heine Zimmerman's gallant pursuit of Eddie Collins across the plate.

Principal Facts In Connection With Big Series

Glenna Collett Shoots Par Golf

Veteran Woman Golfer Only One Of Qualifiers To Equal Par

(International News Service)
SALEM, COUNTRY CLUB, West Peabody, Mass., Sept. 28.—Although Miss Glenna Collett, Philadelphian, still hung as a sword of Damocles over the field of sixteen, the younger generation of women golfers predominated today as the national championship tournament entered the second round of match play.

Mrs. Vare, who won her first national crown in 1922 and duplicated the feat four times after that, displayed the best brand of golf in the round, the only one of the thirty-two qualifiers to equal par despite the soggy fairways and sluggish greens.

The coming generation in this tournament was led by the English champion, Miss Enid Wilson, 22 and twice winner of the British women's crown, who like Mrs. Vare easily brushed aside the opposition played in her path by the fortunes of the draw.

Mrs. Vare today plays Mrs. C. S. Eddis, of Toronto another veteran. The Philadelphian yesterday won her match from Mrs. Karl F. Scheidt of Norristown, Pa., 7 and 5, negotiating the thirteen holes in 55, par for that distance, snagging two scintillating-eagles while doing it.

The English champion also has a comparatively easy match on her hands, when she teams up with Miss Grace English of Lynnfield, Mass.

KEYSTONES CHANGE NAME
Keystones A. C. football team has changed the name to the Perretis, owing to different backing. The team will play any team in the city or county averaging between 135 and 140 pounds. For games with the Perretis call 1710 and ask for Carl Perretti. Games are wanted with Tolan A. C., Croton Juniors, Seventh Ward, Hillside, Ellwood, Wampum, Koppel, East Side, West Side, or North Side teams. Gallagher is the manager.

The successful candidate for the Senate in California conducted his campaign by autogiro; the man who beat Blaine in Wisconsin campaigned by automobile. Apparently there is something in the theory of getting away from the voters before they can change their minds.—The New York Sun.

Mushball Battle Set For Saturday At Radiator Field

Lockleys And Radiators Will Play Sixth And Deciding Game Of Series

Saturday afternoon at the Radiator Field the Lockleys and Radiators will play the sixth and final game of the City League Mushball championship series. The teams have two games apiece, and tied one, according to Ralph Borsinger and the game Saturday should be a good one.

The starting time of the game has not been determined as yet, but will be announced Friday evening in The News. Cover of the Rads and El Lockley of the Lockleys will arrange the time of the game.
The Radiators won the first half of the season, and were undefeated. The Lockleys pulled through in the second half after a tough time with the Rads and Smiths. A large crowd will no doubt attend the final game, as both teams have large followings. Arrangements have been made at the Radiator Field for an overflow crowd. The same parking rules will prevail, with no machines allowed near the playing field, according to Borsinger.

Union Seeking Speedy Backs

Coach Dave Boyd Seeks Speed Merchants For Union High Backfield

Coach Dave Boyd is fine-combing his Union high football team today for a quartet of speed merchants to carry the ball in other words Union lacks a fast set of ball carriers and that is what counts.

The Union line is quite fast and several times last Saturday in the Evans City game, the visitors hauled down the backfield men before they could get under way.

Grove City is going to give Union some real opposition, and incidentally the Grovers are out for revenge for that 7 to 6 setback suffered at the hands of Union back in 1930. The game Saturday at Grove City will be a good one.

For the past two days Coach Boyd has had the second and third teams doing scrimmages for a half hour, trying to develop some of the young players. They are showing a little improvement.

That Union line with Endrees, Georgacz, Whiting, Allen, Jones, Stockman and Kirker is shaping up fine, and it is going to take a mighty good Grove City line to out-charge them.

Next Year's Auto Tags Different

Arrangement Of Letters Will Be Changed In Addition To Coloring

In addition to bearing a reverse of the colors used this year, the new 1933 auto license tags for Pennsylvania motorists will have a different arrangement of the inscription on them, advices received here today from the Motor License Bureau state.

The plates for 1933 will have an ultramarine blue background with gold letters as in 1931. The only difference is the position of the word "Penna" and the year. They were below the numerals in 1931. Next year they will be above them.

Renewal application forms for 1933 tags will not be mailed until November 7. H. Richard Stuckell, director of the bureau, has announced in previous years they were out a month earlier. The later release date was fixed to give applicants who move in September or October time to notify the bureau of their new address. Requests for applications prior to the release date will not be granted.

State Ready For Opening Game With Lebanon Saturday

Five Of Penn State Veterans Will View Game From Bench Because Of Injuries

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 28.—Their last scrimmage of the training season over, the Nittany Lions of Penn State are looking forward to the opening game here Saturday afternoon when Lebanon Valley invades State College on its annual attempt to register a victory. Yesterday's practice, a short scrimmage following a lengthy signal drill, was the last heavy work Coach Bob Higgins will give his charges before the opener.

The practice completed three full weeks of training for the Lions who reported first on the day after Labor Day.

Higgins has had so many of his regulars on the bench with injuries he will not risk further heavy work. From present indication there will be five men viewing the first game from the sidelines because of injuries.

With these men on the shelf Higgins has to do considerable shifting with other candidates. As a result he will be unable to pick a starting lineup before tomorrow or Friday.

FRANKLIN HIGH TRAINING HARD

Coach Gillaspie Puts Franklin High Gridders Through Tough Paces

Coach Emmet Gillaspie is racking his brain somewhat this week. Friday afternoon his Ben Franklin High football team will open the season at Ellwood City by playing the Ellwood High Reserves. Under ordinary conditions this wouldn't be so much of a job but this year it's a different story.

There is only one veteran left on the Franklin High team. His name is Majocha, and he is a fullback, and a good one. The other ten men scheduled to face the Ellwood team Friday have never been under real fire, and they are not yet tried. The squad has been training hard under Gillaspie and Wallace for the past few weeks, and they are in good condition.

The following will likely start for Ben Franklin Friday: DeMartino, Tuscano or Wilson, ends; Doster, Russo, Crisci or Albert, tackles; George, Jokinen, Orlawski or Price, guards; Adamo or Cutler, center.

In the backfield will be Majocha at fullback with Dufford in reserve. Russo, DeAugustine, DeCaprio or Nigro at the halves, and Jones, Morgan, or Nago at the quarterback post.

Franklin High wants to add to that string of victories made last year, but the task is a tough one, especially with all of those big stars missing, and now with Senior High.

SHOWS ADVANCE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Better industrial news came to the support of the stock market today.
Wheat went lower despite widespread bull tips, and cotton was easy. Power production, however, came through with a 1 per cent gain and steel production advanced further, going to the June levels. Bonds were firm. The Coolidge rail commission was formally announced.
The Farm Implement shares were dull.
Drug was under further pressure, but today's decline was small compared with yesterday's 6-point break.

WAMPUM

WOMEN'S CLUB TO MEET
The Women's Club will meet in the Presbyterian church Friday at 2 for their first meeting of the year.

WAMPUM PERSONALS
Eugene Repman spent Sunday with friends at New Wilmington.
Victoria Dashbough of Pittsburgh was a week-end visitor with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Caplan and family were New Castle visitors Sunday.

C. E. Coulter of Greenville has concluded a week-end visit at his home here.

D. M. McDonald visited his mother, Mrs. Ellen McDonald of Warren, O., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Overland have returned home from Connellsville where they spent the past week.

Dorothy Morrow, Pittsburgh spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrow, of Kay St.

William H. Cook and son Paul of New Brighton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, Sr., Sunday.

Blanche Elliott, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Fosselman at McConnellsville, has returned home.

F. M. Davis and Olive and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reno have returned from an auto trip through the West as far as the coast.

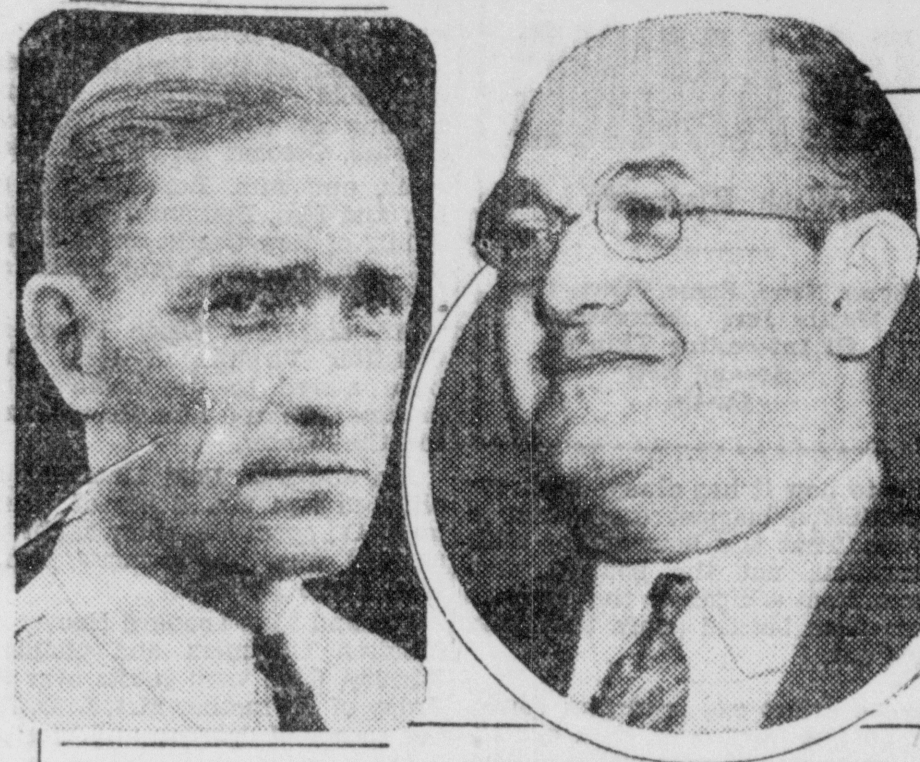

Mr. and Mrs. Wren and family and Mrs. Daniel McGrath of Youngstown, O., spent Sunday with Miss Margaret and Thomas McGrath.

Critically Ill

Suffering from psittacosis, "parrot fever," believed to have been contracted from a parakeet she bought a short time ago, Mrs. William A. Borah, wife of the Senator from Idaho, is in a serious condition at her home in Boise. Serum, said to have proved effective in treatment of the disease, was flown from Washington, D. C., in an effort to save Mrs. Borah's life.

NEW LEGION HEAD TAKES TO AIR

Here is the six-passenger cabin monoplane to be christened "National Commander", which will be used by Louis A. Johnson, new commander of the American Legion, in traveling throughout the country where his official position takes him, during his term of office. O. R. Hamrick, left, of Clarksburg, W. Va., will pilot the plane which will make its headquarters at Clarksburg, also the home of the new commander, shown at right.

Caught with the Goods

Here is a sparkling bit of action in the first football upset of the season when Santa Clara University trounced the University of California to the tune of 12-0 at Berkeley, Cal. Quisling, of the U. of C. (carrying the ball) is shown as he was tackled by Slavich and Danz of Santa Clara during an attempt to crash through the line in the third quarter.

NONSENSE

Bearded Il Duce

Mrs. Noah H. Slee, better known as Margaret Sanger, leader of the birth control movement, is shown on her arrival at New York from Europe. Although she "understood" she was blacklisted by Premier Mussolini, who is an ardent advocate of large families, Mrs. Slee recently held several birth control meetings privately in Italy. She is now chairman of the Committee for Federal Legislation on Birth Control.

Home in Triumph

Back in the town he founded and which is named after him, Walter J. Kohler, who recently defeated Governor Philip La Follette for the G. O. P. nomination for Governor of Wisconsin, is shown as he replied to the enthusiastic reception tendered him by the citizens of Kohler. The nominee is a manufacturer of plumbing fixtures and a former Governor of the State.

Favors Plan Presented By Director R. J. Hawke At Meeting Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—The Ellwood City Board of Education promised their active support to the proposed night school in this city at a special meeting in the school rooms last night, after hearing a talk on the subject by Director R. J. Hawke.

Mr. Hawke gave a brief and to the point talk of the night school sessions last year which were highly favorable and successful. The board as a result profited financially and the community mentally. About 150 students were taught eight subjects last year which had been carefully planned.

Very recently Mr. Hawke and Supt. V. E. DeLong met with the Advisory Board of the Night School to make arrangements for the sessions this year. The advisory board consists of the leading business men and manufacturers in the city. Their policy for this year means the teaching of nine subjects and the employing of a like number of teachers.

On the first day of registrations on last Monday night 81 signed up for the various courses. Registrations will be accepted all week at the office of the secretary during the day.

If all plans of Mr. Hawke and Supt. DeLong come through there will be no expense to the board as a result of the night school. But until more register for the courses the board will have to stand an expense of $123.50. Each additional student signing for the course will cut down this expense. If 150 students enroll as last year the night school will pay for itself. This is of course considering the reimbursement of the state.

At the close of Mr. Hawke's talk the board approved the proposed plans and voted to stand the expense if necessary.

High School Band
To Be Increased

School Board Votes To Equip 50 Piece Band In Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Ellwood's High School band is determined to get somewhere in the musical world.

Prof. Paul Winter through Supt. DeLong presented a plan to the board in which the local high school band could be increased from a 32 piece band to 50 at no cost to the school district. Supt. DeLong pointed out that 21 additional uniforms could be purchased now at a much smaller rate than the old ones. This includes two flag bearers and the leader. A sum of $244 is needed to purchase the uniforms. It is the band's idea to borrow this sum which they expect to return by next July. The high school band is engaged for various different civic occasions in the community for which they are paid. By this method and sponsoring a few concerts or entertainments the band hopes to return the money. The board expressed their appreciation of the discipline and morale of the band shown on different occasions this year and voted to extend this loan.

Liens To Be Filed
Against Properties

Two Hundred And Fifty Liens To Be Filed Against People Owing Two Or More Years Taxes

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Upon action of the Ellwood City School Board at a special meeting in the Lincoln School last night, Secretary G. Blaine Hancher will turn over 100 names to their attorney for which about 250 liens will be filed against the property of people owing two or more years of taxes.

The school board is being compelled to go into effect Oct. 1.

A one cent cut per quart has been made. The milk is now nine cents a quart. A sliding scale of prices will also go into effect. That is the more milk a person takes the less per quart he will pay. The prices are as follows: one to two quarts, nine cents; three quarts, 8 cents; four quarts 7 cents; one pint 5 cents.

CLUB AT VINOKE HOME
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—With delightful hospitality Mrs. Clifford Vinoke opened her home at Wurtemburg to the members of the Women's Service Club when they gathered there for their regular meeting. Twenty-five members were present.

The resignation of the president, Mrs. Charles Kotler was elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. James Cogley was elected to serve as secretary.

The remaining time was kept lively with many games and stunts under the direction of Mrs. Alex Boney and at the conclusion of the games Mrs. Cogley and Mrs. Martin Folen were presented prizes. At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Hutchison and her aides.

The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, October 25, at the home of Mrs. Iva Garwig, Spring avenue.

Mrs. Steven Keul
Entertains N. E. W.

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Members of the N. E. W. Club were delightfully received by Mrs. Steven Keul Jr., Tuesday afternoon for their regular semi-monthly meeting at her home in Knox Plan. Mrs. Harry Latimer and Mrs. Charles Black of this city were special guests.

Bridge at two tables occupied the attention of the guests for the greater part of the day at the conclusion of which Mrs. George C. Nicklas and Mrs. Jack Dunlap of New Castle received the club awards. Mrs. Latimer was presented with the guest favor.

Later in the evening the hostess served dainty refreshments amidst floral beauty. Mrs. Nicklas will entertain the club at her home on the New Castle road in two weeks.

Board Votes To Abate Penalties

Five Per Cent Penalty For 1932 Taxes Will Not Be Added In October

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—An action that comes as a big relief to the people of Ellwood City went into effect this morning as a result of a special meeting of the Board of Education in the Lincoln High School last night.

The board unanimously voted the abatement of tax penalties that are due on Oct. 1 until December 1, 1932.

People in the community were becoming worried. Besides receiving no 30 days notice of their taxes yet they could not pay them at present to anybody had they been able to since no one is eligible to collect. Tax collector T. A. E. McConahy has not obtained his bond as yet. A five percent penalty was to have been added for these taxes on Oct. 1. This is in keeping with the school law. A recent enactment of the state legislature at a special session enabled school boards to abate said penalties.

Fortnight Bridge
Members Assemble

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Marjorie Hines delightfully received the members of the Fortnight Bridge Club at her home on Crescent avenue last night. Mrs. C. M. Iseman, Mrs. Cleo Ferguson, Mrs. Thelma Schenck and Mrs. B. M. Lawther were special guests on the occasion.

Bridge at three tables were in play throughout the evening at the close of which Mrs. Ralph Connor won the club prize and Mrs. Iseman and Mrs. Schenck the guest favors. A luncheon was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Ferguson later in the evening. The next meeting of the club will be announced later.

Bee Brown Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Miss Bee Brown was hostess to the members of the 29-30 Club at her home on First avenue last night. Miss Mary Pavick was a special guest on the occasion. Bridge at two tables were in play at the conclusion of which Miss Helen Houk and Miss Genevieve Curry won the prizes.

A delightful luncheon was served later in the evening by the hostess and her mother and sister. The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Miss Curry on Todd avenue.

Cut Milk Prices
In Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—At a meeting of the Milkmen's Association of this city last night, it was decided to cut the prices of milk in Ellwood. The retail and wholesale prices of milk have been changed to go into effect Oct. 1.

A one cent cut per quart has been made. The milk is now nine cents a quart. A sliding scale of prices will also go into effect. That is the more milk a person takes the less per quart he will pay. The prices are as follows: one to two quarts, nine cents; three quarts, 8 cents; four quarts 7 cents; one pint 5 cents.

CLUB AT VINOKE HOME
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—With delightful hospitality Mrs. Clifford Vinoke opened her home at Wurtemburg to the members of the Women's Service Club when they gathered there for their regular meeting. Twenty-five members were present.

The resignation of the president, Mrs. Charles Kotler was elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. James Cogley was elected to serve as secretary.

The remaining time was kept lively with many games and stunts under the direction of Mrs. Alex Boney and at the conclusion of the games Mrs. Cogley and Mrs. Martin Folen were presented prizes. At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Hutchison and her aides.

Youngest Champion

Miss Helen Waterhouse, 14-year-old Providence, R. I., girl, new Rhode Island women's state golf champion, believed to be the youngest state champion in golfing annals.

Thos. H. Patterson
Speaks To Kiwanis

Former Prison Worker Tells About This At Meeting Tuesday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—In one of the most interesting addresses of the season, Thos. H. Patterson, manager of the local Isaly company here told the Kiwanis Club some interesting facts about prisons at their meeting in the Trinity Lutheran church Tuesday evening.

Mr. Patterson was an instructor at the Maryland Penitentiary and the Ohio State Reformatory for twelve years. He told of two periods of the prison situation: the first one the period before 1907 and the one after that. The first one the speaker stated was the era of discipline when men were punished for violating prison by being given an extension of time there. The period after this was one of leniency when the prisoners were made comfortable and many paroles granted. This latter situation he believes is one cause of the present crime wave. He presented figures to prove his argument. The crime expansion was an aftermath of the war and the period of leniency.

The speaker also told of the many changes in the prisons, of the clothes, diversions, and entertainment.

Mrs. Davidson Is
Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Carl Davidson was a pleasing hostess to the members of the Dinner Bridge Club at her home on Park avenue with all members present.

Bridge at two tables was in play for the greater portion of the evening at the close of which Mrs. J. Jay Dunn Sr., was presented with the high score awards for club members.

Mr. Walter Close invited the club to meet again at her home on Wayne avenue in two weeks.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS
Miss Kathleen Jones of Dormont has concluded a several days' visit at the home of friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Steifel of this city were callers last evening at the Carl Newton home near New Castle.

J. W. Miller of North Sewickley and James McKelvey of Border avenue were business callers at Lima, O., yesterday.

Irene Harmon and Helen Dewhirst of New Brighton spent last evening at the home of friends in Fourth Ward.

Miss Anne Haddock of Fifth street has returned home after spending several days at the home of friends at Youngstown.

Miss Doris Henry of Rochester was a dinner guest last evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Madison, Oakland street.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Miles of Plaingrove have returned home after spending several days as the guests of relatives at Frisco.

Delane B. Witherow of Detroit, Mich., who has spent the past two weeks at the home of friends in this city has returned home.

Mrs. A. N. Brown of Boston, Mass., who has spent the past several weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown at Celia, has returned home.

At a meeting of Kentuckians at Louisville, one speaker said "Do not kill any one, but do everything else to win the election." If this excellent advice is followed, the Kentucky election will be quiet and uneventful.—The Minneapolis Journal.

Pay Day For Local Teachers Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—The long awaited day for teachers in the Ellwood City School System will come on Friday according to an announcement made at a special meeting of the Board of Education by Secretary G. Blaine Hancher. It will be pay day.

Teachers were becoming concerned over the situation. No agreement had been reached with the tax collector so that no 1932 taxes were coming in. Funds were becoming depleted. Only $8000 was left in the school treasury according to an announcement made last week at a special meeting.

Secretary Hancher stated that some over due tuition from surrounding townships and a check from the Ellwood Forge Company that came in will enable them to meet the payroll this month. There may be no pay day next month if a settlement with the tax collector is not made soon.

Tax Collector
Fails To Appear

Board Unable To Act Until City Council Takes Initiative Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Little headway was made last night at the special board meeting in the Lincoln school, on the present tax situation in Ellwood City. The meeting had been especially called in an effort to straighten the matter out.

Tax Collector McConahy phoned that he had not obtained his bond yet and could see no reason for his presence at the meeting. He also reported that he had collected $2500 more in back taxes which he is ready to turn over to the school district.

President J. A. Evans stated that the school board could take no further action until the borough council takes the initiative, since they are secondary to council.

According to the school code Tax Collector McConahy must settle in full before the new duplicate is handed out. This has not been done. He still is obligated for quite a sum for 1932. Vice President J. W. Mayne pointed out that the only way Mr. McConahy could do this would be to proceed to arrest 1100 people who have not paid their 1930 and 1931 taxes. The board adjourned to meet again on October 11.

George Kloos Dies
At Home Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—George Kloos, 61, passed away at his home in Slippery Rock township yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock following a complication of diseases.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katherine Kloos, three sons, George and Andrew, at home, and John of Cleveland; and one daughter, Sara, at home.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home and from the German Lutheran church of this city at 2:30 with the Rev. Ahrenst officiating. Burial will take place in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Miss Vera Welch
Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—The B. S. G. Club was pleasantly entertained by Miss Vera Welch at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sara West on First avenue last night. Two tables of bridge were in play at the close of which Miss Marian Davis received the high score award. A luncheon was served by the hostess and her sister later in the evening. The next meeting will take place in two weeks at the home of Miss Clara Stevenson on Hazel avenue.

PRAYER MEETINGS

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—In accordance with the program of the General Assembly this evening there will be a prayer service and discussion at the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church. Preceding this service the Y. P. C. U. executive committee will hold a business meeting in charge of the president, Jerry Workley.

The weekly Bible study class of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church will be held this evening at the parsonage in charge of Rev. R. E. Bell. Choir practice will precede the class.

Tomorrow evening the weekly prayer service of the Knox Presbyterian will be held in the church rooms with Rev. Bell as leader.

Y. P. C. U. SOCIAL
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Friday evening the members and friends of the Young Peoples Christian Union of the Camp Run United Presbyterian church will hold their monthly business and social meeting at the home of Miss Ruth Wright of near the Zellenople road.

FALL PRESBYTERIAL

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—The fall Presbyterian of the Women's Missionary society of Presbyterian churches of Beaver Presbytery will be held Thursday at Ambridge. Delegates will attend from the First, Slippery Rock, Bell Memorial, Knox and North Sewickley Presbyterian churches.

ONE OF THESE MAY BE NEXT WOMAN GOLF CHAMPION

Among these five star golfers probably is the next women's national golf champion—for they rank among the best. From left to right are Miss Virginia Van Wic, Chicago; Miss Rosamond Sherwood, Massachusetts; Mrs. Glenna Collett Vane, Philadelphia; Mrs. W. M. Ferris, Massachusetts, and Miss Helen Hicks, Hewlett Park, L. I., defending champion. All are participating in the women's national golf championship tournament at Salem, Mass., Country club.

Maintenance Work Finished

Summer Maintenance Work On Highways For Year Is Practically Ended

Maintenance work on Lawrence county highways for the summer season has been practically completed. H. F. Lightner, county superintendent of highways stated today.

There are a number of special projects under way, however which will take some little time to complete. Work of grading on the Highland avenue to New Wilmington road has been finished, and about two miles of the surface treatment have been applied. The grading work on the New Bedford-Pulaski road is also finished and work will be started at once on the surface treatment. The road project under way in Plaingrove township is now finished, and will be oiled during the early part of November, when all oiling work necessary in the county is expected to be carried out at one time. The excavation work on the bridge at Wurtemburg, a state project, has been started and will be carried forward by the contractor. Quite a number of men are being employed on the various projects in the county.

Road Work Wages Show Big Total

Lawrence County Got Goodly Share Of Huge Amount Paid Out This Summer

More than $5,800,000 has been paid out in wages to an army of road workers by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways during the past four months, a report to Secretary of Highways, Samuel S. Lewis, reveals.

Just what portion of this has been paid to Lawrence county workers is not known, as no definite check is kept on the amount here. H. F. Lightner, county superintendent of highways stated, the workers being paid by check from the office of the state treasurer in Harrisburg.

However, Lawrence county got its share of the amount as there have been several projects under way here of large proportion, including the bridge at Willow Grove, and secondary roads in Plaingrove, Neshannock and Pulaski townships, besides the regular maintenance work.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer

IN DEFENSE OF ARMENIANS

Editor of The News, New Castle, Pa., Dear Sir:

In the September 22 issue of The News, there was an item about a cabbage grown by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hughes weighing 12½ pounds, and big enough "to feed a family of fourteen starving Armenians."

I certainly do appreciate the agricultural ability of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes. They of course deserve credit for growing the giant leaf Saver. I have no malice against the cabbage, and none against Mr. and Mrs. Hughes. I would not have taken the trouble of writing to you this letter if that cabbage business had not ended with the sarcastical phrase of "Such a head could produce enough cold slaw or sauerkraut to feed a family of fourteen starving Armenians."

I am an Armenian and a citizen of this country, and know that it is not justifiable to call them starving Armenians. They have had hard times and have partly starved, but that was during the war when millions of them departed leaving their homes and properties which are estimated at over $5,000,000,000. I mean billions not millions.

They lost all of their possessions in Turkey and were scattered in the Mesopotamian desert and in Syria, no homes, no money, no way of making a livelihood, depending upon charities which they accepted very reluctantly. They were in that condition not because they were loafers or a lazy people as everybody will think if he does not know the facts and the overwhelming odds that the Armenians had been through.

They received charities and got that degrading name from philanthropist people, because they were at that time a nation without a country.

Mr. Editor, there were other nations that starved also, and still are starving while having properties and homes of their own and depend on charities, but the Armenians are not starving anymore. They overcame the starvation, but they still have the name "Starving Armenians," which I hope to eliminate by pointing out the causes of it.

The Hindus are starving, the Chinese are starving, Russia once starved, so was Germany, and still there are many other places that the people are starving. Now then Mr. Editor, why not say starving Hindus, Chinese, Russians, or Germans, but say Starving Armenians?

I would not have said a word in defense of the Armenians if they had started through their laziness and stupidity, or incapable of making a livelihood. They starved because they were homeless and depatriated everything they possessed were taken from them. When the war was over, they found themselves branded forever by those who gave little donations. Those who are calling them Starving Armenians, did nothing for them at any of the conferences following the war to claim the property losses of $5,000,000,000 that made them starve for a while. The cause of the starvation, Turkey, got the title of "Gentleman Turk" and the victims, we, the Armenians, got the title of "Starving Armenians." And this Mr. Editor, is an example of modern civilization that we are proud of and brag about.

To give for charity, to play philanthropy, and then to call names and brand not an individual only, but a whole nation. This Mr. Editor, is another example of civilization, for which I am not only sorry, but ashamed as well.

Now, before concluding I wish every farmer in the county to have a good crop of cabbage so we will have enough of it this winter, to feed the needy families of the city.

Mr. Editor, I will be very thankful if you will be kind enough to print this letter to help me eliminate that name from the forehead of my nation, at least in Lawrence county where The News is read.

Very sincerely,
STEPHEN H. KLUDJIAN,
505 E. Lutton St., City.

Keeping In Touch With Expenses Of Stripping Shovel

County Commissioners are keeping a close check on the expense of uncovering coal on the Pearson farm by the use of a steam shovel. If it is found that the overhead is greater than the price at which they can buy coal, work of taking out reliable coal will likely be stopped. There is said to be from eight to twelve foot of stripping in order to get at a one foot vein of coal. The commissioners have another proposition where there is a five foot vein near Wampum, which they are investigating.

Germany is now mulling up the disarmament project, but considering the progress that has not been made heretofore, that ought not to make much difference.—The Indianapolis News.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Up to now it has always been our idea that a bouquet came from a garden. That is a bouquet for table decoration, not the bouquet that comes from a cigar or that used to come from bottled goods that were ruled out.

Some smart egg is always thinking up new variations from old accepted ideas and now we have bouquets picked from the coal cellar and the kitchen cupboard. Beautiful, so the folks claim who have been making these new Depression Bouquets, and you can always use it for fuel when you've finished with it.

This new Depression Bouquet is made from a lump of coal, just ordinary, bituminous, run-of-mine coal. A lump about four inches each way, and a glass bowl to put it in and you're ready for the ingredients.

Sprinkle six tablespoons full of salt over the coal, then six table spoonful of water over that and follow it with six table spoonful of ordinary bluing. Then about four drops of mercurchrome and your bouquet is planted. In no time at all you have a peculiar looking combination that resembles a cake frosting that has run away from home.

There is some reason for the peculiar frosty looking covering that grows up over the coal, probably due to the action of the sodium, the carbon, the sulphur and the mercury. And if it doesn't work, you can always use the coal for burning or tossing.

After seeing where the poles have been moved to on East Washington street, we can't help wondering just where the folks are going to walk. Or maybe there will be a slice taken off back of the walk.

You may not go this far back in the history of Lawrence County. Neither do we, but do you happen to remember the Big Meadows Gas Company that once piped gas into the City of New Castle for domestic use?

The gas wells were put down out in what is known as the Big Meadows out in Shenango Township and for a time they actually produced gas sufficient for domestic purposes. Then the project faded like a morning glory.

This one happened on a newspaper in a county not far from here. The editor had passed out the word that the word "evening" was out. There was and is no such thing as "evening" declared he and reporters would use it no more. The word "night" was proper.

Things went all right until one of the reporters was describing a social event and said that Mrs. Blank was garbed in a beautiful "night" gown. Which is one reason why editors get lines between their eyes early.

Receivership Of Radiator Plant Is Now At End

The new National Radiator Corporation of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, today, formally took over the properties and business of the old company as one of the final steps in reorganization under a confirmation order of the Federal District Court in Pittsburgh. This terminates the receivership operation which has been in effect for the past year. The new corporation is owned and controlled by the bondholders of the old company and will commence business with a substantial amount of current assets and only a small amount of current liabilities according to officers of the corporation. They also state that the company's income expenditures do not mature until nineteen forty six.
